

Mr. Rolf Rimstad

December 30, 2017

Comments

“ RIP Rolf. He truly was one of a kind...and one of the best kind. Had a wealth of knowledge about many, many things, not just sports and could crack up a room with his one liners. Glad we had the baseball reunion.
- Scott Morrison

Scott Morrison - January 13, 2018 at 03:04 PM

“ Obviously gone way too soon. A great character, Make sure you read Lance Hornsby's tribute in the Sun. He mailed Rolf to a T. My sincere condolences to his family and his friends. I hope Rolf managed to cash all the pay cheques he had tossed into a drawer.

Mark Bonokoski - January 11, 2018 at 09:33 PM

“ RIP Rolf. Had a mind not only for sports but also for myriad other subjects - from politics to literature. And he delivered some great lines over the years!

Patrick Grier - January 11, 2018 at 06:33 PM

“ Rolf wasn't a fan of the spotlight, but he sure could make you feel like a star with his amazing recollection of everything you ever said to him. He wouldn't want a fuss, but I hope he knows that his friends at the Toronto Sun will miss him.

Cynthia McLeod - January 11, 2018 at 05:11 PM

“ I worked with Rolf at the Toronto Sun. He was a great guy. Always friendly, and he had a sharp wit. I have really fond memories of my time working with him, evening shifts at the Sun's sports department. My condolences.
Mark Keast

Mark Keast - January 10, 2018 at 09:08 PM

“ He did his job and was always a class act. He will be missed. A true gentleman!

Perry Lefko - January 10, 2018 at 08:55 PM

“ RIP Dolfus. An encyclopedia of sporting knowledge and a Toronto Sun Sports stalwart. Gone too soon.

John Fitz-Gerald - January 10, 2018 at 07:49 PM