“ My Dad (Fred) was 78 years old and was an absolute fighter. He did not want to say good-bye but after several years of battling this disease, he gave in. He was one of the funniest people I knew and he was also one of the strongest and kindest people I knew. He taught me so much throughout these years and I will continue with this legacy he has shared with me.

Recently we've had a few trips down east to Nova Scotia with him, where he was raised, and we discovered that he is one of the last living survivors of the 1956 Spring Hill Mine Disaster. We walked into the museum and everyone wanted his photo and the staff there pointed out pictures and his name posted on memorabilia. He practically took over the tour as well. It was so memorable for him to share this life changing experience with his grandson and myself. I love him and will miss him always but my memories will always shine.

Thank you Dad for all you've given me.

Your daughter, Julie x.x.x.
