

Alexis Egri

February 25, 2026

It is with profound heartbreak that we announce the passing of our beloved daughter, Alexis Egri, on February 25, 2026, at Etobicoke General Hospital, at the age of 26. Born on December 25, 1999, Alexis came into the world on Christmas Day, a bright and precious gift whose kindness and sensitivity touched everyone who had the privilege of knowing her.

Alexis was a caring and deeply sensitive young woman, a fierce defender of what is good and right in the world, and someone who noticed and stood up for those who were hurting or overlooked. She had a smile that could melt anyone's heart, and a gentle presence that made people feel seen, safe, and accepted for who they truly were. A proud transgender woman, Alexis lived her truth with quiet courage and authenticity, and her family honours and affirms her identity in life and in death.

All Alexis ever wanted was her own small corner of happiness, a place in the world where she could simply be herself and be at peace, but that place too often felt out of reach for her. She faced struggles that were invisible to many, and though she fought bravely, her pain became overwhelming. Those who love her will remember her not for the way her life ended, but for the tenderness, conviction, and luminous warmth she brought to ours.

Alexis was a passionate and imaginative soul who loved playing Dungeons &

Dragons and video games, where her creativity, quick wit, and sense of wonder could fully shine. She spent hours every day reading, forever exploring new worlds, ideas, and stories, and she cherished the quiet comfort that books brought her. She also loved curating music for her parents. Her favourite styles included alternative, swing, post modern jazz, big band, and indie folk, and she delighted in finding just the right song to capture a mood or a moment.

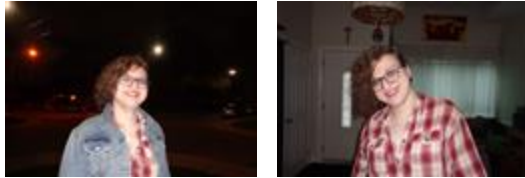

Alexis will be forever loved and dearly missed by her parents, Elizabeth and Robert Egri; her siblings, William (and his wife Emily Chapman), Katherine, and Victoria Egri; her grandparents, Magda Egri and Alex Laczko; her uncle and aunt, Stephen and Karen Richards, aunt Madeleine Egri, and dear friend Raven Dewsbury, along with extended family and friends who will carry her memory in their hearts always. She was predeceased by loved ones who welcomed her gently into rest, and those of us left behind will continue to speak her name, tell her stories, and honour the beauty of who she was.

In lieu of flowers, the family welcomes acts of kindness done in Alexis's memory, especially towards transgender people and anyone struggling with their mental health, so that others might find the understanding and support that Alexis herself so fiercely tried to offer the world. Details regarding a celebration of Alexis's life will be shared with family and friends at a later date, as we gather to remember her, grieve together, and hold on to the love she leaves behind

Tribute Wall

IC

“ I'm honestly still so in disbelief. Alexis was truly such an amazing human being and I'm so lucky to have had her in my life. She will be so incredibly missed 💔

Isabelly Celly - March 10 at 09:38 PM

SA

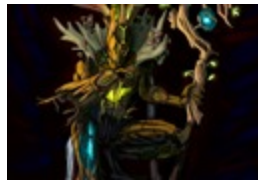

“ Being your friend for the last 6 years has been truly special. From meeting online during COVID to meeting up all together in New York years later. You were truly so kind and generous and I wish more people got see the light you brought to every room. Your dedication to people will live on through the lives you have touched. I'm going to miss our long chats, trying to make each other laugh. The world lost a beacon of light when you left, you were so incredibly loved and cherished. I love you so much, so many people did will always.
-Salem

Salem - March 09 at 03:40 PM

SW

“ I cannot properly express in words how my life would not be the same without Alexis. Some of my deepest connections, favorite memories and even my current job have her to thank for the incredible stories she helped create with me. Seeing her every week to simply play games, tell tales, and create new experiences was always a highlight, and I will carry with me forever the emotions and adventures we shared together. While I do not have a picture of her, she was generous enough to have this art commissioned for me based on the character I played in her game. They were always my favorite and mean all the more to me now. She will be missed, remembered, and loved always.

Skyler Whatley - March 09 at 02:18 PM

HP

“ Alexis was our DM for four years and is the reason I met my now life partner and best friends (including her). We spent every Monday together for the past 6 years and some of my fondest memories are because of her and her creativity. She is a light in my life i will never forget

Holly Painter - March 09 at 02:04 PM

RD

“ I miss her so much. She brought such joy to my life. And through her volunteering helped so many others

Raven Dewsbury - March 07 at 11:08 PM