May 8, 1965 to November 14, 2025

Armand passed away at home in Toronto on November 13, 2025 from a sudden illness. He was born into a large family in Mattawa, Ontario in 1965, and he was too young to go. Armand will be sadly missed by his wife and best friend Anita McMurray, his mother Dorothy Guilbeault, his brother David Guilbeault and family, his son Bradley Clarke and family, the McMurray family, and by so many other of Armand's Guilbeault family and other relatives and friends (too numerous to mention in case anyone is left out).

Armand will be remembered for always wanting to help others, his “attitude of gratitude”, his sense of honour, and his good sense of humour.

Condolences can be shared through www.aftercare.org

Armand loved a good party, and his Celebration of Life will be held later, both in person and on Zoom, to allow relatives and friends to share memories and stories. Please check back later at this site for information.

If you wish to make a donation in his name, Armand was treated at the Sick Children’s Hospital when he was a child, and donations would be welcomed there.

“ Armand was a special guy. He treated his wife, my niece, Anita with great care. He also could be funny sometimes, in a nice kind of way. And he could sure be stubborn - I don't know which side of the family that came from... To Armand's mom Dorothy, we know that children should never leave this earth before their parents. All the McMurrays and our extended family were so sorry to hear about his passing.
