“ Ben,

I often think of you and our last conversation we had. I miss you dearly and I wish we'd had more time. You told me I was your greatest friend, and that you'd been reading the Bible and were amazed by Jesus. That moment has stayed with me — it meant more than I can say.

I remember your laughter, your wit, and the way you could turn any moment into something memorable. You were one of a kind, and I carry your memory with me every day.

I recently learned that your parents planted trees and placed a bench in your honor. That touched me deeply. It's a beautiful way to keep your spirit alive — a place where people can sit, reflect, and feel close to you.

I hope your daughter grows up knowing how loved you were, and how much light you brought into the lives of those around you. I'll always be grateful for the time we shared.

*With love and remembrance,
Luis*

“ I never knew Ben Werrett, never met him, but...

It would seem He was well Loved, and so He is likely well missed. My proof of this thought is that I have enjoyed, MANY times, sitting on the bench dedicated to Him, between the trees, planted and likewise dedicated, to rest, catch my breath while walking the dogs (who I do NOT let use His trees!) or just to enjoy this lovely quiet, SUNny spot before heading on. I might be a wee bit soft, but I usually thank Him for the opportunity and pleasant Joy, then wish Him well, wherever He is, knowing, that at least for a while, He was a very lucky fellow, to be so cared for, and surely well thought of, still.

Take care Ben, wherever You are... D.
