

Mrs. Betty Marilyn Lomax

April 2, 2015

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

SH

“ Happy first heavenly birthday Mom <3 I hope you are being pampered, having dinner made for you and having the chance to dance with your Father, just like you wanted to. Soar high with the angels. Love and miss you more than words can say. xxxxx

---

sharon - October 26, 2015 at 02:04 PM

SH

“ LOMAX, Betty Marilyn (nee Anckorn) - M.R.S. C.L.N 1932 - 2015 The most inquisitive of minds has been silenced. The great ride, filled with fun, adventure and the inevitable challenges is now complete. Left to enjoy an endless assortment of great Bettyisms: her adoring husband of 60 years, Ross Lomax; children, Cathy Wilson (Scott), Sharon Quevillon (Claude, predeceased), Tim Lomax (Christine); grandchildren Brendon, Erin, Matthew, Andrew, Daniel, Hannah, Cam and the most amazing collection of friends gathered and nurtured over 82 years. Devoted to family, staunch Torontonians, dedicated CBC Radio listener, voracious reader, food lover, world traveller, tireless volunteer, letter writer, lover of theatre and movies, world class knitter, crossword enthusiast and endless list maker. A curious, well rounded people person, Betty loved nothing more than disarming new acquaintances with her humour and quickly adding them to her growing collection of friends. At Betty's request, there will be no funeral, but a celebration of her well-lived life will be held at a later date. If you wish to honour Betty, a random act of kindness to a friend or stranger, a donation to The Scott Mission or Providence House would continue her legacy of putting others before self.

Mom, I just found this and thought it should be here. It's your birthday tomorrow. I hope you are celebrating and having someone else make you dinner! Maybe Claude will there for you, he's a good cook hahahaha. I miss you and love you. Happy birthday in Heaven, Mom xoxoxox

---

Sharon - October 25, 2015 at 09:54 AM

SH

“ 1 file added to the tribute wall

---

sharon - October 11, 2015 at 01:00 PM

SH

“ Mom, it's Thanksgiving Day today and It's bringing a flood of memories back. I remember one Thanksgiving at Cathy's house. The whole family was there and while the turkey was cooking we all went fr a walk around the neighborhood. The crisp fall air, colored leaves and brilliant sunshine. As we walked, I remember holing your hand and just talking and laughing. I hope you, Claude and your Dad are celebrating today in the same way <3 I love and miss you with all my heart <3 I know you're watching down over all the family, especially Dad. He's doing exactly what you asked him to do; however it takes him so much longer than it did you. He's cooking, cleaning, doing the laundry, attending to all the outside chores etc. He's even keeping in touch with your friends, still golfing, meeting friends for lunch and dinner and even going to the hospital to visit Ruth. I know he still loves and misses you but he is managing just fine. We're all looking out for him. The boys go over to see him and call regularly. I'm so proud of them. Keep flying high with the angels. As I told Dad you've probably met each one and even know their names, just like you did on earth. Love you xxxx

---

sharon - October 11, 2015 at 01:00 PM

SH

“ Mom, it's been 10 days since you passed and I still have the urge to pick up the phone and tell you what's going on with me. It seems so surreal that this happened. I have no closure through this whole thing. Today I picked up your keepsake from the funeral home. It's very fitting, a blue heart with flowers. You had the biggest heart anyone could ask for, always there for family and friends. We will be sure to plant the gardens so you can watch the flowers grow over the summer. All the grand children are going to pitch in and help Ross with the work. I love you and miss you.

---

sharon - April 13, 2015 at 11:07 AM