“ Condolences to Sheila, Marilyn, Helen and their families. Carol loved talking about her children and delighted in her many grandchildren. Carol and Alan became my next door neighbors in October 1986 when I moved in next door to them and over the years they helped me learn about leaf collection, home ownership, geography and gardening. We became good friends. They were conscientious and kind caregivers to my three cats while I traveled. I so enjoyed going back and forth for tea and chats. Carol was always kind, cheerful, positive. I missed them when they moved after a long sojourn on Phyllis Ave. I was delighted that Carol and Marilyn worked together on her memoir. I would enjoy hearing her tales of her early life in England. I consider myself so fortunate to know both Alan and Carol
