

Chunling Zhang

March 7, 2022

June 20, 1932 – March 7, 2022

On March 7, Chunling Zhang died peacefully in her sleep at Toronto Western Hospital in Toronto. Beloved wife of the late Jingmu Luo (1999), loving mother of Dongxia Luo and Nanxia Luo, grandmother to Le Zhao and Ran Tao.

Chunling was an individual who loved freedom and independence. She has survived many hardships in life, never wavered in the face of challenge, and was an accomplished structural engineer decades ago at a time when men dominated the field. She always enjoyed living a simple life and being happy. Chunling met many of her new friends through the community church and always tried her best to help those in need.

The family is very thankful for the care, support, and medical attention provided by the Toronto Western Hospital, especially many of the nurses and doctors that stayed by her side throughout the hospital stay.

Chunling will be remembered for her heart-warming smile and her positive mindset in life. She has inspired many others to be brave and love life. We will miss you Chunling.
