

Mr. Claude Joseph Rosaire Quevillon

February 2, 2012

April 18, 1964-February 2, 2012

Suddenly and unexpectedly taken from us, a truly amazing husband, loving soul mate and best friend of Sharon. A totally dedicated and thoughtful beloved father of Nicole and Lisa, who both admired him immensely. Claude will be sadly missed by his proud father Norbert and loving mother Therese; their #1 son, sister Colette (Paul) and brother Marc (Lori). Adored step-father and friend to Matthew, Andrew and Daniel. Fun loving uncle to Kyle, Samantha, Kevin, Shane and Colleen. Claude started at Canadian Tire at the age of 18 in St. Catherines, as a seasonal employee to help pay his way through Brock University. Through his many years of hard work and commitment he rose up the ranks to become Manager of Store Support Systems. January 2012 he received his 25 year accolades for his continued dedication. Admired colleague and Manager of many dedicated staff and peers at Canadian Tire Head Office. Claude was extremely knowledgeable, a perfectionist and believed in motivating his staff to become the best they could be. Claude was an avid Scrabble player, gardener and air guitarist. He was extremely easy going, had a great sense of humor and loved his HABS and PACKERS. A memorial gathering will be held at the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 345, 81 Peard Road, Toronto, M4B 1T8 on Tuesday, February 7, 2012 between 5pm-8pm.

“ Happy birthday my sweet angel. You would have been 62 today.....forever 47. You always said today was the most important day of the year. If you were still with me, I'd be busy preparing your favourite dinner and Duncan Hines fudge chocolate cake for dessert. You would always book this day off work and do whatever you wanted to do, just for you. I miss spoiling you on your special day. Every year it was something you had never had before. Hot air ballooning, surprise 40th party, a limo ride, driving you to a secret B&B for the weekend, Via train ride to Montreal for the weekend, anything I could think of to make sure your day was special, just like you. You deserved that and much more. As always, I love and miss you more than words can say. I hope you're celebrating today with Mom and Dad and hopefully chocolate birthday cake. Love always, your loving wife, Sharon xxxxxxxx

“ Happy Valentines sweetheart. I love you and miss you on this special day. Every year you make this day so very special for me. Always a dozen long stemmed roses, candle light dinner and beautiful cards. I was always treated like a queen this day surrounded by your love. You left me with so many wonderful memories. I will always treasure them, kept safely in my heart. Love always and forever. Yours, till we meet again, Sharon xxxxxxxx

“ Honey, 14 years ago today you were taken from me. The worst day of my life. Losing you was like losing a limb. I changed that day and will never be the same person I once was. You were the only person who truly loved me, no matter what. We were always there for each other. Your love is safe within my heart for ever and always. Until we meet again. I love you. “ Hi Honey, Sorry I'm late. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. I hope you, Mom and Dad were celebrating together. It used to be the "happiest time" of the year. Now, it's a season full of sadness, loneliness, tears and forgotten. Santa doesn't come, no tree, no gifts to wake up to, no laughter and no people surrounding me. You'd think after all these years I'd be used to it, but I'm not. To me it's just another day alone, like every other one in the year. You always made the holidays so very special and loving, I miss that. Thank God it's over for another year. The highlight for me was Daniel and family came through town on the 12th and I finally got to hold our new grandson, John. You would love him. Chubby, happy and absolutely gorgeous. He's 6 months old now. I got much needed hugs and kisses from Evi, she's so smart and now 4 years old. I know you are watching us all and keeping us safe. Please keep sending those signs. I love and miss you with all my heart.

“ Happy 21st wedding anniversary honey. I know we only had 7 years married, they were the most wonderful years anyone could ever ask for. It took you 7 years to ask me to be your wife but it was well worth the wait. I remember every moment of that beautiful day like it was yesterday. Just the 2 of us in the most beautiful place on this earth, St. Lucia. Our plan was to return for our 10th anniversary, unfortunately we never made it that far. I was very blessed to have spent the last 15 years of your life with you. Becoming Mrs. Claude Quevillon was a dream come true for me. You are my one and only true love, best friend, soul mate and my rock through everything. I love and miss you with all my being. Until we meet again. I know you are always with me and please continue to send me signs. Love always and forever, your adoring wife, Sharon. T'aime t'aime xxxxxxxx

“ Happy heavenly 61st birthday my love. I miss all those memorable times we had together celebrating your special day. You always joked that this day was the most important day of the year. All the get-a-aways we had, surprise weekends, concerts, surprise party, hot air balloon ride, wonderful times spent with your family up north and doing whatever I could to make this "your" day. I hope you are celebrating with Mom and Dad and get to have your favourite chocolate cake. I wish I could be with you to hug you and tell you one more time how much I love you. “ Happy New Year honey! Heading into another long year without you. I survived Christmas alone, one full of memories and tears. The holidays are not the same anymore. They have no happiness or joy.....just another day without you. I honestly don't know how I have kept going, day after day. Now with you, Mom and Dad gone, it's like being an orphan. You were the glue to keep our family together. Since you've been gone, everyone has walked out of my life. The people I needed me most, left me. I would give anything for one last kiss and warm hug from you. Your hugs were my comfort and could chase all the stress, fear and anxiety out of my body. I talk to you all the time. Hope you hear me. “ Merry Christmas sweetheart! Another long, sad and lonely Christmas without you. You always loved today and were such like a little kid. You left me so many great memories and that's what gets me through today. We spoiled each other with carefully thought out gifts mixed in with a few gag gifts and lots of love and laughter. I can't believe this year marks my 13th without out. And now Mom and Dad are both with you and family has walked out of my life, today is a bitter sweet one. My whole life I never dreamed of being so alone. My memories and love I dearly hold on to safe within my heart. I'll never stop loving you and you are always on my mind. “ Happy 20th anniversary honey. I would have given anything to have had 20 years of wedded bliss with you. That would have been a dream come true. Even though we only had 7 years, 2 months and 22 months as husband and wife, they were the best times of my life. Being loved by you and sharing my life with my true love, soul mate and best friend was more than I could ask for. Every day I wake up so grateful to have shared the last 15 years of your life with you. You were the best thing I could have ever happened to me. You're constantly on my mind and forever in my heart. “ Happy 58th birthday sweetheart. Forever 47. You always joked that this was the most important day of the year. I would give anything to celebrate one more birthday with you. We always booked a week's vacation for your birthday and head up north to your parents house. You loved going "back home" and as we got closer you would get more and more excited. Like they say, "you can take the boy out of the country, but you can never take the country out of the boy." It was a week filled with love, laughter, music and relaxation. Just what you needed. Your Mom would always spoil you rotten and made all your favourite foods, chocolate brownies, apple cake and a special CTC birthday cake. I miss those weeks. I hope you are celebrating with Mom and all the angels who have passed before you, your big sister and cousin whom you loved dearly. You're on my mind today and every day. “ Hi sweetheart, I'm sorry I didn't write to you yesterday. Happy 9th angelversary. I don't know why, but this year hit me very hard. My PTSD spiked and have been having nightmares for days about "that" day. No matter how hard I tried to think and remember all the good times we shared, every minute of that day kept creeping in. I felt so alone and really needed a hug from you to calm down. I know you could see this and it was you that sent Daniel over to see me and give me that much needed hug. Thank you for the sign you were with me by sending the song on the radio (just when Daniel was here). I made your favorite dinner and made a toast to you, but it just wasn't the same as when you were here to share it with me. “ Happy anniversary honey. 16 years ago today you made me the happiest woman in the world! Even though we only had just a little over 7 years of wedded bliss, they were the best years of my life. Even though I'm sad and missing you today, I have so many wonderful memories we made together. You taught me how to love again, laugh again and be happy again. We shared such an unconditional love for each other, one like no other. In our total 15 years together not once did we fight. Nobody else can say that. We both introduced each other to so many different experiences, music, food, movies, vacations and most of all our "inside" jokes that nobody understood but us. You were taken far too soon from all the people who admired and loved you so much. You left a huge impact on every life you touched. I love you with all my heart and soul, until we meet again. “ Hi sweetheart, Sunday was a very hard day for me. Your 8th angelversary hit me bad and I was struggling all day. I woke up with the same recurring nightmare of reliving that horrible morning of Feb.2, 2012. It was like I was living through it all over again. All the guilt of not being able to save you and worse yet, not even getting to say "goodbye" to you. I reached out to your Mom and she said it was a bad day for her as well. Oddly enough it was the Super bowl and your Mom's Chiefs were playing (the first time in 50 years. We joked about her having an angel watching over and you must have been there for her because they won!! It was kind of bittersweet. Thank you for making the day just a little bit better for her. Winter is really getting me down, with very little sun and very cold. I'm so tired of being house bound and am counting down the days til Spring when I can get back outside. The worse time for me are the weekends, filled with memories of the two of us not caring about the weather and spending hours playing Scrabble and cards. Always laughing, talking and enjoying our time together. I miss that so very much. I miss you even more as each day passes. Please continue sending me those special signs that help me know you're still with me. Your love is and always will be safe within my heart. Love always and forever, until we meet again. “ Happy new year honey. I can't believe it's 2020 already. Where has the time gone? This year will be your 8th anniversary. It seems like yesterday and a lifetime ago at the same time. For the first time since you left me, I wasn't alone on New year's eve. It wasn't the same as we used to have but it was better than the last few years. Robin came over and I made your favorite dinners, stuffed pork chops. They were delicious and Robin loved them. We drank, listened to music, sang and danced until 3:30 am! We shared stories and memories of you, like you were here. It felt so good to talk about you and Robin listened to every word. It made me a little sad but mostly brought smiles and good thoughts of you and I. I love you with all my heart and I know once again I won't be alone as I enter a new year. Please continue to send me signs as I love getting them and knowing you are still with me, your love safe within my heart. Love always and forever until we meet again. Your adoring wife.

“ Merry Christmas my sweet angel. My 8th spent alone with just my memories to make it through. Even without snow, it doesn't seem like Christmas at all. I'm just so glad it's over for another year. I spent my time sleeping and thinking about you. I watched our favorite movie (It's a Wonderful Life), on Christmas eve just like we always did. I still cried at the end, but I didn't have your arms around me to comfort me. Yesterday, all the houses around me were filled with the smell of turkey, children's laughter and people talking. Sadly, I sat on the couch by myself eating left overs. This is one holiday I dread the most. I love and miss you so much my heart actually hurts. I tried reaching out to your parents but only got a text back in response. I was hoping to talk to your Mom as I miss her, not having my Mom with me anymore. I hope you and Mom celebrated together. I think you did because the other night I looked up and there were 2 bright stars shining down on me. Thank you for all the signs you both send to me. They let me know you're doing fine and are still watching over me. I love you with all my heart. Until we meet once again. Love always and forever, your adoring wife.

“ Happy 15th wedding anniversary sweetheart. You made me the happiest woman on earth at 2:30 15 years ago. I remember every minute of that day as if it were yesterday. In the middle of paradise we exchanged our vows, made our life long pledges to each other, danced to one of "our" songs and never stopped smiling at each other. Under a flowered covered gazebo, our eyes lovingly locked into each others, the ceremony went off like a perfect fairy tale. After enjoying tea sandwiches, cake and champagne, the photographer followed us as we strolled the grounds for the first time as husband and wife. People calling out "congratulations" and waving at us. The weather was perfect, sunny, 103f, a soft ocean breeze and not a cloud in the sky. The day flew by, but I didn't want it to end. At sunset we were led down to the beach where a table set with cloth, fine china and candles greeted us. Tikki candles surrounded us in the shape of a heart. After more champagne our waiter served us the most delicious meal I have ever tasted. As we lingered over the meal followed by dessert, we shared the day with each other. It was so magical.....more than we ever expected.

That was the first day of our married life together. We couldn't wait for our adventure to take us to who knows where. I was truly blessed to have spent the rest of your life with you. You even said we would come back here for our 10 year anniversary and renew our vows. It saddens my heart that we never made it that far. But those 7 years, 2 months and 22 days as your wife were the best years of my life. I know you are with me today, your love always tucked safely within my heart. I will never stop loving you, missing you and will always be your devoted wife. Until we meet once again to continue our love story.

“ Happy Thanksgiving sweetheart. Another long weekend spent all alone. It would be great if we were alone together. Spending 3 whole days playing marathon Scrabble, laughing, talking and relaxing. But, unfortunately you are only here in my heart. Not one family member invited me to share in their festivities. The only time I hear from any of them is when they want something. They don't give me a second thought otherwise. I am so lonely and missing you more than ever. You are always on my mind and forever in my heart. Love always, your adoring wife, Sharon. “ Hi sweetheart. Well, it's been 1 year today that I got the keys to this house. A move I really didn't want to make but had no choice. Demolition started right away and I lived in a war zone for 7-1/2 months. Got taken advantage of by 3 contractors, did a lot of the work myself and very tiring and lonely. If only you were with me, it would have been an exciting and happy time. We always did everything together. You were always by my side and now you're only in my heart. I miss you more than ever. A part of me died with you and even though the house is finished, without you it doesn't feel like "home". I doubt it ever will be. I know you were with me this past year because of all the signs you send me. Please keep sending them. My health is not the greatest and only sheer will power is making me get out of bed each day and work on the house. Now Fall is here and my SAD has set in, which doesn't help. The days are getting shorter and soon it will be time to hibernate for another 6 months. I can't remember the last time I smiled or laughed. I don't feel any joy or happiness. Just loneliness. You're constantly on my mind and forever in my heart. I love you. Your adoring wife. T'aime t'aime xxxooooo

“ Happy Father's Day honey. As you already must know, you have become a grandfather for the 2nd time. Lukas Matthew entered our world on June 13th at 2:41 pm weighing 8 lbs. I know you're looking down with pride and happiness. Please watch over Jackie as she has had complications from the birth. We love and miss you so very much. Your photo in this tribute was taken at your last Father's Day with us, 2011. Your quirky smile will be forever etched in my mind and heart. Every day is a struggle for me without you by my side, especially now in gardening season. How you loved to be in the garden working side by side with me. Your beloved irises are blooming and are thriving nicely. I hope you are proud of me and how much I have accomplished in the new house. It's a lovely house, but will never feel like home without you here. You are constantly on my mind and forever in my heart. Love always and forever. T'aime t'aime Your adoring wife, Sharon xxxxxxxx

“ Happy heavenly 55th birthday sweetheart! Forever 47. I know how much you loved your birthday and always told me it was the most important day of the year. Over the years I loved spoiling you each year with a different adventure and special gifts to mark the occasion. I sent an e-mail to your parents, thinking about them and how hard this day must be for them. They miss you almost as much as I do. I'm still struggling with grief and depression, even after 7 years. 7 years!! It seems like a life time ago since you've held me in your arms, kissed me softly on my cheek and hear you tell me how much you love me. It also seems just like yesterday. Each day I wake up I hope it is all a dream/nightmare, which I will wake up from and you'd be here. Starting the gardening season will be hard without you by my side. We always did everything together and made such a great team. I have so many wonderful memories of our time spent together in the gardens. My health is not what it used to be so the work is harder for me to do by myself. I love and miss you more with each passing day. Love always and forever. “ Happy Valentine's Day sweetheart. I am celebrating alone as usual. It will be my 7th one without you. To dance with to "our" song. (Bed of Roses) Today is especially hard for me, as everyone is talking about the loves of their lives and how they want to spend their whole lives together. I'm so sad our lives together didn't last a lifetime like we wanted. But, my love for you will never die and I know your love for me is safe within my heart. Thank you as always for all the beautiful signs you send me letting me know you are with me. My love for you gets stronger with every day that passes. Unfortunately, my grief for you also gets stronger. I love and miss you with all my heart. I am so glad that 2018 is over. One of the worst years of my life. Thank you for the 2 wonderful signs you sent me last night. I know you were with me on New Years Eve. “ Merry Christmas my love. I am alone again this year, missing waking up with you and experiencing all the excitement and joy you always brought to this day. Last night I watched our favorite Christmas movie and of course cried at the end, as usual. I was able to sleep through this morning so I wouldn't feel the pain of being alone. I am not going to Larner for dinner. Dinner is just a pity party for me and it really isn't important. Being included in one of the boys houses in the morning was my dream. But after 7 years alone, they still don't get it! I miss you more and more with each day that passes, but more so at this time of year. You were always so excited waiting for this day to arrive, full of kiddie like enthusiasm. You loved Christmas almost as much as I did. Now that you're gone, it's just another day in the week and doesn't hold any meaning for me at all. I hope you and Mom are together today, celebrating and laughing. She loved Christmas almost as much as you did. You are on my mind today, memories flooding my head of Christmas' past. You'll always be safe within my heart but not having you physically by my side is so very hard. Love always and forever, your adoring wife, Sharon

“ Hi sweetheart. Today would have been our 14th wedding anniversary. 14 years ago at 2:00 pm you made me the happiest woman in the world by making me your wife. I remember every single second of that wonderful day. Set in an Eden on earth in St. Lucia, hot, sunny and perfect! You dressed in your full tux, looked so handsome but must have been sweltering hot in the bright sunshine and 105 degree temps. This day brings back floods of memories but also makes me feel so alone and meloncholy missing you with my aching heart. I was blessed to have spent the last 15 years of your life with you, but was cut way too short. We were supposed to grow old together and maybe even celebrate our golden anniversary. Although your love will always be safe within my heart, it's not the same as if you were by my side. Always on my mind and forever in my heart, until we are once again reunited and I am in your safe arms once again. I love you with every ounce of my being. May the angels be singing for us today. “ Hi sweetheart, this whole move and renovation process has been a total nightmare. It would have been better to handle if you were with me. The movers were horrid and completely made a mess out of everything. The renovations continue and were supposed to be completed before I moved in (Sept.. 25/18). I am still under renovations, with no working kitchen, no tv and no living room. I just got my computer back 3 days ago. The counter tops, back splash and window coverings are another 3-4 weeks. It's like living in a war zone. I hate it! It would be so much more bearable with you by my side. My patience is running thin and I'm having regrets I even did this whole thing.

Nicole got married yesterday (I know you were there). She looked beautiful and I know you are so proud of her. I appreciate all the signs you have sent me to help me through everything. Your plaque is visibly mounted in the garden beside your favorite iris's and your "Les Quevillon" sign is proudly mounted at the front door. Your memorial is hung and your beautiful smile lovingly greets me each day. I also found your urn yesterday so you are right by my side, as always, your love safe within my heart. Please continue to watch over me and keep me safe. Love always and forever, your loving wife, Sharon. T'aime t'aime xxxxo0000 Until we meet again.

“ Hi sweetheart, tonight will be my last night sleeping in "our dream" home. Tomorrow I begin a new adventure in my life, I just wish you were with me. I know you and Mom have been with me every step of the way on this roller coaster ride. Finally, tomorrow I get to settle into my new place and maybe get some much needed rest and let go of some of the stress. It's so quiet and peaceful at my new house. I can see the stars at night and hear the birds chirping. Going back and forth from one house to another has proven to be very stressful. The more I drive back to Toronto, the more I won't miss it. For the last couple of months I have been working 7-8 hours each day at the new place and then coming back here packing and purging. All with no help. It's like living in a warehouse, not our beautiful home that we shared together. You have always been there no matter where I was. Your beautiful white butterflies are with me here in the gardens, down at the new place in the gardens and Mom has watched over me driving the hour commute with her sign of 111 on the speedometer. Today you both came through as white butterflies while I was outside. I feel your love and presence at the new place. My heart is full of your love and support in all my decisions and know you are with me as always. I miss you more than ever, but know you are with me. I know in my heart that this was a good decision and feel I will be happy there. Thank you for always being with me and guiding me along this journey. “ Good morning sweetheart. Well, the day has finally arrived. Today I close and get the keys to my new house. I'm excited but sad at the same time. Until I have unpacked your photos and momentos, it won't feel like a home. I know you will be with me through all the renovations and the move, your love is always safe within my heart <3 I wish we could be doing this together for real. I love and miss you more and more each day. I know you would be as excited as me to get into those gardens and make them as beautiful as the ones we made here together. I'm taking as many of your favorites with me to ensure your signs follow and continue to surround me when I'm in the garden. The whole house is packed except for food and a few photos. Andrew is going to help me do the computer and TV. That was always your job, I don't have a clue how to do that. He's also going to try to be with me on moving day, so I won't be alone. The boys and I are spending this weekend doing demo and hopefully it will get a jump start for James to start Tuesday. I know you will be watching over all of us, especially me. I got the invitation to Nicole's wedding and Sigrid is going to be my date! I'm looking forward to it and I know you will be there with her and Jesse on their special day. “ Hi sweetheart, after selling our house August 3rd., all I've been doing is packing. I close on the new house Aug. 30th and demolition starts Labor Day weekend. All the kids are coming down to see how much we can get done before James starts on the renovations the following Tuesday. Everyone said they would help me with the packing etc. but nobody has shown up or even texted or called to see if I need help. This is the point where I wish with all my heart that you were here. We always worked great together and got things done fast. I've managed to get all the rooms done. The last will be the kitchen and bathrooms. I still have to live here for another month. The financing went through, no problem and I should be debt and mortgage free September 26th when I close here. It will also give me enough money to get the renovations done. Nobody will be with me on moving day, so that concerns me a little. I know you'll be with me in my heart, but that's not the same thing. I love and miss you more and more each day as I travel this nightmare called life. The journey has been very hard so far and it doesn't seem to be getting any better. I'm planning on taking all your favorite plants from here, making sure you follow and I will continue to get the white butterfly signs that you send me. Especially the lavender, you always loved that. I'm trying my best to keep positive and looking forward, but some days are so difficult without you. I still cry but not as much as in the beginning. I got my invitation to Nicole's wedding in October and I'm taking Sigrid as my date. I know you will be there watching over and smiling down as a proud Papa you always were and are still as Papa angel. I will never stop loving you and looking forward to the day we are once again reunited for all eternity. I know you will be waiting for me with open arms. “ Hi sweetheart,
Sadly and gladly I sold our "dream" home last night. The stress of not selling was really getting to me, emotionally, mentally and physically. Now I'm moving on to the next chapter of my so called life without you. I know you will always be with me, your love safe within my heart. Still it's not the same as having you by my side. I'm excited and scared at the same time. I'm going to miss this house and the gardens we worked so very hard on together. I'm going to take as many plants as I can so you can come with me. So many decisions to make and I have a lot of doubts. When you were with me I never doubted anything. You were always my rock and strength to carry on. “ Happy Father's Day honey. It just wasn't the same without you here. Your photo on here is one of my favorites. It was taken on Father's Day 2011, your last one with us. Those sultry eyes and your quirky smile would always draw me in. So handsome and sexy. Matt, Jackie, Andrew, Trish and of course sweet little Bennet. I know you would adore him if you were here. He's getting so big and took his first steps last weekend (14 mos. old). He never cries, always smiling and laughing. He eats absolutely everything that's put in front of him. He melts my heart and watching Matt with him is endearing. You can see the love in Matt's eyes when he's looking at Ben. I've been trying to reach your Mom, just to talk to her about everything. We keep missing each others calls. At this time I realize how much I miss my Mom as well. The house still hasn't sold and today we reduced the price and are hosting an Open House this weekend. I'm getting very stressed out about the house not selling. At the end of the month I'll only have 2 months before closing on the other house. I'm still nervous and anxious about moving that far away by myself. Because we are renovating, I know I won't be alone for at least the first few weeks. Nut after that I'll be alone and not know anyone. I have become quite the hermit since you left me and mostly keep to myself. The boys think that will all change once I get settled in. I know you see all the things happening and are watching over me, but it doesn't take the place of you being here with me. There's not a second that goes by that I don't think about you or something reminds me of you. My grief is still as strong today, 6 years later, as it was the day you died. I'm so thankful that Laura has kept this page open for me. I feel closer to you by writing here. I love you more than words can say and miss you even more. Keep watching over me and keep prayers for me that the house will sell. Sending you all my love, your devoted wife. Love always and forever. T'aime t'aime xxxooooo

“Hi Sweetheart. Well, the time has finally arrived where I can no longer afford to stay here in our "dream" home. I have only 4 months of money to pay the mortgage and then I'll have to be out. Matt found me a great realtor, a friend of his who he's known for over 10 years. Matt doesn't just trust anyone, so if he says he's good and honest, he is and I can trust him. It's taken me quite a while to think about moving without crying. I'm so emotionally attached to "our" house, I think if I leave, you won't come with me. I'm praying you stay in my heart and help me through this process. I narrowed my search closer to the boys and smaller property in Wilmot Creek (in between Bowmanville and Port Hope). It's only a 45 minute drive from here. We found quite a few houses for sale but they were all sold before I could go and see them. The prices ranged from $325,000 to the high $400's. Daniel told me to live affordably I'd have to get something around $340,000. Every day I looked on MLS and just before Mother's Day I found 2 I wanted to see. I brought Daniel with me and drove down with Gino. The first was $349,000 and the second was only $259,000! As we entered, the whole house needs renovating, but the boys assured me they would all pitch in and help with everything. I had that Claude/Sharon feeling just like all the other places we lived in. After walking the whole house and came outside, I told Gino I wanted to put in an offer. We offered $255,000 and left it till Sunday at 3:00 for their response. They came back at $257,000 which I accepted. Guess what? That was Mother's Day! We sold our house in Oshawa on Mother's Day, so I took it as a sign from you that I did the right thing. The closing date is August 30th, now I just have to sell this house. It's been on the market for 10 days but it feels like an eternity, I just have to sell it! I've prayed to you every day to help make this happen. I know you are watching over me and the results will be good. This whole process is not a happy, exciting thing because I'm doing it alone and you're not by my side. I love you and miss you more than ever. The tears come so easy lately, and it seems for no reason except the fact you're not here. Your loving and always devoted wife, love always and forever.

“ Hi Sweetheart, today is probably the worst day of my life. 6 years ago, I woke up to the sound of your alarm, my arms still wrapped around you. As I reached over to shut off the alarm, I found your dead body beside me. My whole world and life came crashing down. Life as I knew would never be the same ever again. I am not the same person I once was and never will be ever again. When you died you took the best part of me with you. Time has healed nothing, in fact my grief is getting worse as the years pass. “ Hi honey, today I'm struggling. 6 years ago today was the last time I saw you alive. The day started out normal with you leaving me a love note before heading off to work. It said, "Good morning sweetie, Hope your day is awesome. Sure wish I could stay home. I love you and will miss you BIG TIME today. Love always, Claude xoxoxoxo" I've kept every single note (1500), card, letter, everything you ever gave me. We had a lovely dinner and then cuddled on the couch to watch tv. At bedtime, we said our "I love you's, sweet dreams and see you tomorrow", kissed and hugged. It was dark and you got up to go to the bathroom, on your way back you screamed, 'OUCH". I thought you stubbed your toe on the bed, asked if you were ok, with no answer you got back into bed. I snuggled behind you wrapping my arms around you. That was the last time I heard your heart beat and felt your warm breath on my arms. WHY DIDN'T I TURN ON THE LIGHTS AND CHECK ON YOU?????? I might have been able to save you. You might still be with me if I had only acted instead of falling asleep. This still weighs heavy on my mind. I love you with all my heart & soul. Love always and forever, your devoted wife,

“ Happy New Year my darling. I barely survived the holidays, between family and my physical conditions. My grief and sadness took quite a lot out of me this year. I don't know why this year was harder than the last 4 years without you. I felt no joy, no happiness and there was no laughter. After 15 long years my family still did not invite me to their Christmas. The kids had many expectations from family and were torn apart. Dennis and Jan took pity on me and insisted I spend Christmas day with them. One afternoon we went to see Matt and the baby, another we visited Dad. One Christmas day we had brunch with Brenda and then over to Dennis'. I didn't talk much, just sat there and listened as they talked about religion and politics. I couldn't wait for it to be over and get home. Next year I'm spending the holidays alone. I'm still in a funk and don't have any energy to do anything. I'm sleeping between 10-11 hours and still wake up tired. The only thing that keeps me going is knowing you are always with me, your love safely tucked within my heart. Each day that passes I miss you more and more. I love you with all my heart and always will. I'll never stop loving you. Until we are once again reunited for all eternity. Love always and forever. “ Merry Christmas sweetheart. This is my 5th without you and for some reason, this year is harder than all the others. I miss you more than ever. I love you more than ever. Sure people have invited me for dinner, but without you, it's not the same. I am so lonely and all alone, even surrounded by others. Of course my family has still not invited me to their homes. It's been over 15 years since I've been included in my family Christmas. One of Mom's last dying wishes was for the family to get back together. Even her last Christmas with us (2014), I wasn't invited to spend it with her. There is no love, no joy, no laughter or excitement in this house anymore. You were the one who brought all that to our home. Now I'm surrounded by sadness and grief all year long, but especially at this time of year. Christmas holds no meaning for me anymore, it's just another day of the year. Another lonely day of the year. As you know, over the past few months I've been having a lot of physical issues, which is not easy to deal with by myself. I need you with me and help me through this. I know you are always with me, I feel your presence and am grateful for all the signs you send me, but it's not the same as having you by my side. I love you always and forever. “ Hi Honey, 13 years ago today you made me the happiest woman on this earth. I remember every moment of that day and our 12 days in Paradise together. It was without a doubt the happiest time of my life. I can't believe it's been 5 long years since we celebrated an anniversary with each other. Becoming your wife was the best thing that ever happened to me. I was so proud to be your wife. My soul mate, lover, best friend and one and only true love of my life. I miss you more and more with each passing day. Today is filled with so many mixed emotions; happy memories, treasured love and overall sadness that you're not here by my side. “ Hi sweetheart, 13 years ago today we were so excited. Packing and getting ready for our 12 days in St. Lucia. Just the 2 of us together! Wedding and honeymoon planned to the last little detail. My heart feels like it was just yesterday. I remember everything about this day and always will. I wish you and I were back there doing it all over again. It was without a doubt the most exciting and wonderful time of my life, as I know it was yours. Those memories will always live in my heart. I love and miss you more and more as each day passes. My soul mate, best friend and one and only true love of my life. Keep sending me signs, I treasure every one of them. Always and forever honey. T'aime t'aime xxxxxxxx

“ My dear Claude, another long weekend without you. Labor Day, the temps have dropped, the flowers are dying back and there's not much work left to do in the yards or gardens. I know we both hate this time of year, I wish you were here with me. I've worked so hard all spring and summer to make the place something you would be proud of. I hope you're looking down and smiling. I hope you are proud of me. This year I had no help at all and by some grace of God, I managed to do everything myself. Thankfully, the pain meds helped me along the way. Your beautiful white flowered Hostas are the only flowers still in bloom and yes, they smell wonderful. I know how much you loved them. Thank you for spending the summer with me and sending me all those beautiful signs each day. I treasured every one of them. I still miss you so very much, my heart is still broken and my soul still shattered. Soon it will be time to put everything away for the winter and then hibernation for 6 months. This depresses me even more. I didn't get to sit outside and enjoy our yard once. I was too busy trying to keep it up for you. I know you will be with me as always. My deep, unconditional love for you will never die. I know you hear me when I talk to you and understand how much pain I'm still in, over losing you. I'll continue to love you until we meet once again. Love always and forever. T'aime t'aime xxxooooo

“ Hi sweetheart. As you know I've had a very busy, yet accomplished summer so far. I hope you are proud of me and what I've done. The time I spend in the yard and garden brings me peace and a sense of calmness. Taking my mind off grief for a while. I know you are always with me because of all the wonderful signs you send me. Feathers, white butterflies, robins, cardinals, coins, yellow chickadees and finches. I know you hear me when I'm talking to you. I love when you come inside when I do. The "our" songs you send me on the radio are such a comfort to me. It's been 5 years, 6 months and 3 days since the angels took you home. I don't have any idea how I have survived this long without you by my side. I can't even remember most of those days, weeks or months. I'm still struggling to keep "our dream home" but financially it's been very difficult. I'm slowly running out of money to make ends meet each month. Like you always told me, "Living on a Prayer" (Bon Jovi). The radio plays this a lot and I know it's you. I wish someone would help me. I keep praying to you and Mom to let me know everything's going to be ok. I really don't want to lose this house that we worked so hard on together. I still miss you every single day, my grief and depression is getting worse instead of better. I'm just existing until I take my last breath and we are once again reunited to love for all eternity. Blowing kisses to heaven, Honey <3 Always on my mind and forever in my heart <3 T'aime t'aime xxxxo000 <3

“ My sweet Claude. Wishing you a belated Happy Fathers Day. I know you were with us, celebrating with your beautiful smile and hardy laugh. Dad and the boys came over along with our first grandchild, Bennett. I know he's so sweet! You would have made a great grandfather, as you always had a way with children. Thank you for answering my prayers, now I just have to hold out until January 2018. Please keep watching over me and praying for me that I will be able to keep "our" house. Also, thank you for sending Nicole back to me. It will be good to have a relationship with her again. I know it was you answering all my prayers. I love you and still have an aching heart for you. My grief will never end for you, until I take my last breath and cross over to be with you once again. I'll love always and forever <3 xxxoooo Your loving wife, Sharon T'aime t'aime

“ Hi Honey, as you know we've been having a lot of rain. It's so hard getting out in the garden. I can't afford Scott this year. Daniel has been wonderful helping me. He's going to cut the grass once a week and he's going to get his football guys to come over and help me with the gardens. I have been able to put out about 2 hours in the mornings to get the leaves and pine cones cleaned up. I've been using the blower and it gets real heavy for me to drag around, but I did it out of pure determination. The family wants me to sell our house but I'm going to do anything to keep it. I don't want to leave "our dream" home. I'm slowly losing money but I've applied for benefits to keep going. Please pray for me and help if you can. I'm still deep in my grief over you and nothing has really changed over the past 5 years. It still feels like yesterday. I don't know how I have managed to keep going after 5 long years with you. But it's 5 years closer to being with you and we can finish our love story for all eternity. I can't wait. My balance is really off and have had 6 falls. You and Mom must be keeping me, because the falls just turn into bumps and bruises, nothing serious. Did you see the pictures of little Bennett? You would be a grandpa. He's so adorable. I love you always and forever. Love your adoring wife, Sharon, T'aime t'aime xxxxxxxx <3

“ Happy heavenly birthday my sweetheart <3 I hope you are flying high with the angels and get to have your Duncan Hines birthday cake. I am loving and missing you with each day that passes. Today especially missing you. You should be here being pampered and spoiled by me. As I was writing about you (us) and remembering all the wonderful birthdays I was blessed to share with you, brought back a flood of memories. We always had a great time celebrating your big day. Making it through each day is so hard to do without you by my side. But with each day that passes, brings me one more day closer to being with you. Once I take my last breath and cross over into your waiting arms, I'll never left you go ever again. We can then continue our love story where we left off for all eternity. Bonne fete my love. “ Happy Valentines my sweet angel <3 I can't believe this is our 5th one apart. There's love every where and I sit here alone. None of the kids called or texted me anything. They don't know how much this day means to me. I love and miss you so much, thinking about all the wonderful Valentines we shared. Today makes my missing you more than usual. They say love never dies. I will love you with all my heart until I take my last breath on this earth. Then as I cross over, I know you will be there waiting for me. We will be reunited once again to finish our love story which was cut short. We will be together for all eternity. Until that day, I will continue to love you with all my heart. Thank you for all the signs you send me. I know you are here with me always, especially when I'm not having a good day. I can sometimes sense your presence right beside me. In a couple of months we're going to be grand parents. I wish you were here to meet Baby Gazarek in person. But I know he will be just one more person you and Mom will be watching over. You would have made a great grandfather!!! I love you with all my heart and always will. “ Happy new year honey! Another year has passed without you. It seems so surreal being 5 years, it only seems like yesterday. My heart still aches for you, my soul is empty without you and I'm so sad and lonely. I'm losing friends and family one by one and now the only friends I have are my cyber friends. Every day is the same, nobody to talk to, nobody to cook for and nobody to be happy for. The kids think that becoming a grandmother will fix everything and I'll just suddenly "stop grieving and being sad". I have nobody who understands my deep grief and depression. I'm so happy I have you to talk to, it makes things better. I know you send me signs when I need them the most and I appreciate the fact you're watching over me. “ Merry Christmas sweetheart. My 5th one without you. I don't know how I have survived this long without you. I feel so alone and still very sad all the time. Nothing is taking me out of my Critical Grief of losing you. Practically everyone has deserted me in my time of need. All my "so called" friends who made promises to me, have disappeared. As you saw, I was welcome into Dennis' and jerrys home on Christmas day. At least I wasn't alone as usual. It's still very hard to wake up Christmas morning alone. All the memories flood in of all the wonderful mornings we had together. Although, I was surrounded by people, I've never felt so alone. I love and miss you more than words can ever say. “ Honey, wishing you what would have been our 12th wedding anniversary <3 I can't believe you've been gone over 4 years, 9 months and 8 days. You're still always on my mind and forever in my heart. Brenda is coming over for dinner (as usual) and we're having "our" celebratory dinner. Snow crab legs, potatoes and corn. We're using our wedding glasses and will be making a toast to you. At least I won't be celebrating alone, I don't get very many people coming for dinner, I'm usually alone. It won't be the same without you. I'm still very sad, depressed and there's no joy in my life without you. I don't know how I have made it these past months. It just seems like I'm a robot, doing what I have to do just to get through the day. I hope you are pain free and happy. “ Hi Honey, I know it's been a while but a lot has been going on here. My health issues are getting worse. Both my feet are frozen, numb and I've had 6 falls. The Fribromayalgia is getting worse. I now lose words when talking, right in the middle of sentences. I watch tv and the next day I can't remember what I've watched. I miss your love and care when I'm not feeling well. Nobody wants to hear about my issues. You were the only one I could truly count on for support. As you know this time of year depresses me as all the color has gone from the gardens and it means packing everything up for the winter. I can no longer do the yard work myself and have had to hire someone to help me this year. I miss working in the yard but it's too hard for me. I miss working in the garden with you. You were so strong and as you said, "I'm just the worker and you're the boss". Honestly, I don't like anything anymore. I don't smile or laugh, nothing makes me happy. I can't wait to gain my wings and reunite with you again. I love you so much and time is not healing me. My heart still has a gaping hole in it, my soul is shattered; all I have left are photos and my memories <3 I know you are with me because Bon Jovi just came on the radio "Your Love is Like Bad Medicine". Do you remember that night in the basement apartment?? I do, makes me smile when I think of that night <3 I love you with all my heart and soul <3 Thanks for being here for me <3

“ Hi honey, I've been missing you terribly lately. It's summer and hot as hell. I'm finding it hard to stay outside and work on the gardens without you. Your favorite Hosta flowered today, your Lavender by the fountain is covered in white butterflies and bees and your Lambs Ear is covered covered with purple flowers. I haven't even ventured to the back garden, it's too overwhelming for me to do it alone. Mom's best friend died last week. She was 81 and her and Mom had been friends since they first met in Kindergarten. I'm glad they have been reunited. My Fibromyalgia is so bad I had to hire a handyman to do the outside work, He's really a blessing. Please watch over Uncle Gordie, he's going in for surgery to remove cancer from his leg. Also there's a spot on his brain that's not getting enough blood and that's why he's dizzy all the time. Please ask Mom to watch over him also. Love always and forever my sweet angel <3 I miss you more than words can ever say. Until we meet again. Always yours, Sharon

“ Happy Valentines Day sweetheart <3 This is the 4th year I've been apart from you on this loving day. It just makes me miss even more. No phone calls, visits or texts from anyone. I feel so very alone and sad. I recall all the loving memories of you and the beautiful things you used to do for me on this special day. This is a long weekend, including today and tomorrow (Family Day). It's so bitterly cold, and I can imagine us huddled and cozy playing scrabble for hours. I so miss those times with you. “ Merry Christmas sweetheart. This year was worse than the first one without you. Alone on Christmas Eve, watching our favorite movie. Christmas morning, I opened the one gift from you and 3 envelopes. It was all done and over with in 10 minutes. Dan and Trish dropped by for a hug and gave me a card. Nobody else in the family called, texted or dropped by. Not one of my children could even take 5 minutes out of their day for me. Not even Dad, he didn't call me like Mom used to. I spent the rest of the day on fb and then to Brenda's for dinner. I only stayed a couple of hours because it was causing me a lot of anxiety. Boxing day was the same; I didn't want to do anything and just sat on the computer all day, like I'm doing today. I miss you so very much sweetheart. Christmas has no meaning for me anymore. It's just another day in the year.

I hope and pray you and Mom were together for Christmas. It was both of yours favorite times of the year. I don't know how I've managed to block you, but I haven't heard from you or had any signs from you for over 4 days now. I keep talking to you and trying very hard to keep my mind and heart open so you'll come through. I need to know you're still here with me. I love and miss you so very much. I don't know what to do. I need you with me to get through the holidays. It doesn't feel like Christmas and I certainly don't feel like celebrating. I'll be alone tomorrow morning, opening the few gifts and cards that I have. I can't but remembering all those wonderful Christmas' with you. You were always so excited and made everything so amazing. Not just for me but the years we had the girls. Now I have no family to be with, your girls have shut me out, your parents don't want to see me (any time of the year), everyone on my side of the family (except Dad) abandoned me years ago. The boys are going to Tims this year and him and Cathy alternate having them each year. Why don't they want to be with me? Tonight I am going to watch It's a Wonderful Life, just like we used to. I remember snuggling on the couch, curled up together, drinking and laughing. Tonight, I'm hoping you will be with me. “ Honey, it is December 2nd and the memories are flooding back. I can't believe I'm going through another Christmas without you beside me. It is not a joyous time and I can't get into the "joy" of the season. I've decided to drive up north to spend the holidays with our parents.

They are thrilled with the idea as am I, however the long drive is a little daunting. I'm pleading with you to watch over me and ensure I have a safe trip. All I want is to spend time with your folks and get big hugs when I arrive. This is a huge step for me and I will need you beside me the whole way. The huge hole in my heart has not gotten any smaller but I'm trying. I love you with all my heart & soul. Love always and forever, your adoring wife, Sharon xxxooooo

“ Another month has gone by without you. As you know honey, I hate the fall and especially the winter. It depresses me even more going through this time without you. As I pack up all the outside things and head for hibernation, it's going to be even lonelier. I try to remember you are here beside me, however some days that just makes me even sadder. I think about you every moment and I'm still having a terrible time here without you. I love you with all my heart & soul and always will. Love always and forever, Sharon t'aime t'aime xxxooooo

“ As you know, the 2nd of every month brings back the horrible memory of that fateful day I lost my soul mate, best friend and most of all a huge part of my heart. I don't feel any better today than I did that morning. Why you? I still don't understand and probably never will. It hurt each and every day to know I'll never touch you face or feel your arms around me to keep me safe. You'll always be the best thing that ever happened in my life. Love, your adoring wife, always & forever xxxxxxxx

“ Sweetheart, I've been working very hard on the property lately. I know you can see everything I've done, but it's no fun not having you to share it with. I still can't bring myself to sit out on the deck at night looking over "our" estate and thinking of new projects to do together. I'm still missing you so very much and the huge hole in my heart is still there; I don't think it will ever mend. The radio keeps playing "our songs" and that just brings back floods of memories. My life will never be the same ever again. Love always & forever, Sharon xxxxxxxx

“ Well, sweetheart, tomorrow Andrew & Lianne get married. I know you will be there watching over them and by my side to share this happy event. It just doesn't feel right to experience these events without you with me. Nicole & Lisa will be there with me, so that makes me feel closer to you. I miss you tremendously and very lonely living without you. With all my love, your devoted wife. t'aime t'aime xoxoxoxox

“ Well honey, another birthdays come and gone without you to celebrate with. Nobody understands what I'm feeling and the agony of not having you every day in my life is doing to me. There's really no reason to get up each morning. I still think this is all a bad dream and one day I'll wake up to your smiling, loving face and wonderful hugs that I miss so much. “ Today marks the first anniversary of you leaving me. Even though it seemed the year flew by, it also seemed to be the longest year of my life. I still find it very hard every day thinking that I will never see you again. The hole in my heart is not getting any smaller and I still miss your smile, your smell and your hugs. I love you and miss you so very much. Love always & forever. xxxoooo

“ Happy Anniversary sweetheart. Nine years ago at 2:30 in the afternoon, you made my dream come true of becoming Mrs. Claude Quevillon. For 15 years I had the most wonderful life with the most amazing man I've ever had the pleasure of knowing. Because you loved me was not only "our" song, but it truly made my life complete. I miss you so very much and will always hold you safe in my heart. Love always and forever, Sharon xxxxxxxx

“ Dear Sharon, Lisa and Nicole. Though we never met, I knew so much about you from Claude speaking of you so often. He loved you and was so proud of you and your accomplishments. Claude reported to me for 4 years at Retail Systems. He was so clever and creative, such an accomplished and committed employee. Canadian Tire has lost so much. His work ethic and high standards leave a legacy in the department. Let me know if there is anything I might do for you to lessen your huge loss. Sincerely, Elaine Stanley

“ I can't even imagine not walking into Claude's office and calling him Patron ever again. Thank you for the wonderful memories over the last 12 years and for teaching me as much as you did. Words that could only describe him would be genuine, caring, patience and quirky. You will always be in my thoughts and my heart. Lisa, Nicole and Sharon my deepest sympathy and remember the great times you shared. A special man he was..

“ Very saddened to hear of Claude's passing. Having worked with Claude for many many years he was always there to help the Dealer Network. He directed a most responsive and helpful Team that help Dealers solve their issues with our In-Store Systems. Canadian Tire Dealers will miss his continued valuable direction of his Team, but I know that his Legacy will carry on.

“ I first met Claude over 10 years ago when he was the team lead for Canadian Tire's store support. At the time we were providing additional IT support staff to his team. He was a quiet and reserved individual initially but over the years our mutual trust and respect grew to become not only business partners but friends. We would often chat about our respective families, desire to help people succeed and of course the Habs. I will miss Claude's kind and quiet disposition. He had a good hearted nature, matched by his sense of humour. My sympathies, thoughts and prayers go out to his family. Rest in peace Claude.
