“ When Claudette was first introduced to our family - back when she started dating Jack - she gave us all a great big smile, and kept smiling as long as I knew her. She was always busy making wonderful things. She made most of her clothes, including her beautiful wedding dress, and always looked great. She made beautiful things out of stained glass, and gave them away. Among these was a large window for her dentist's house that was featured in a home décor magazine. She could look at a little picture of a stained glass hanging lamp and perfectly recreate it full size, without any instructions. Her cooking was fabulous. When the power went out on a snowy Thanksgiving day at the cottage, Claudette cooked the 25 lb. turkey on the barbeque, perfectly. She had a sommelier's palate, and her homemade wine rivalled much more expensive French wine. She used her talents to help other people by cooking for their special needs, or just making sure they were eating, or providing huge quantities of cooked and baked goods for charitable events. She was both kind and fearless. I would like her sisters and their families to know how very sorry I am for their loss. – Kathy Gilbert

“ Claudette was a generous, loving, cheerful person. She loved to travel and entertain. I got to see a lot of her when I was younger, and she always made time for me, and made me feel special. It just felt good to be around her. She made people feel comfortable and welcome... And well fed! She was such a gifted cook. Claudette was much-loved, and will be deeply missed by her friends and family.
