“ Together Once Again by Ron Tranmer ©

*When her husband passed away
The loneliness began.
He was her life, her everything.
Her sweetheart, and her man.*

*Friends and family drew closer
But she wasn't quite the same.
They knew her heart was aching
She so often spoke his name.*

*The years rolled on, as years will do,
And she sensed her time was near.
Elizabeth replaced her loneliness.
Of death she had no fear.*

*She knew that God would never
Let death be their last goodbye.
For true love is forever,
And doesn't end because we die.*

*On the day she left us,
She smiled and called his name,
Then followed him to heaven.
They're together once again*

“ Blaise, Penny and the Csida Family,

So sorry for your loss. Elizabeth was such a beautiful woman. I recall watching her dance with your Dad and she had such grace and elegance. A true lady. May all the wonderful memories you have of her bring you comfort at this difficult time and for many years to come.

Penny and Blaise:

Tony and I would like to express our condolences to you both during this most difficult time. Blaise...words expressed here will not take the feeling of sorrow away but know that we, Tony especially, understand the loss of a Mom. Penny from how you have spoken of Elizabeth she sound kind and loving and caring. You were a very lucky girl to have that in a mother-in-law, as was I. Love you both! Shelley and Tony <3
