“ Elizabeth and I were in public school together until grade 8 in Sunderland. I left the area in 1953 and was never in contact with her again, but always remembered her birthday on September 27. May she rest in peace. Jean (Campbell) Noland

“ Always in my heart: quiet, gentle, and, yet, at the right time, stepping in when something needed doing; that's how I learned to dance in grade nine at Brock High: you asked did I? I said no, never learned, and was too shy to accept your invitation to teach me. You said don't be silly, come on out on the floor, and so I learned from a wonderfully kind classmate. You will remain with me forever.
