“ To Ev and the Girls.....I am so sorry about Eric. I was always so proud to be his friend. He was my mentor during my teen years. Like a big brother I could always count on him for advice , and a good example to follow. He had a love for the field service, and for people. My memories of our scallop diving and fishing and hunting trips together will never be forgotten. Bonnie and I look forward to Eric working side by side with us and his family in restoring this earth to a paradise after his sure resurrection. Please find comfort in knowing how much we care about you and your family..warm agape' love, Bonnie and Stew

“ So sorry for your loss. I still remember how he would giggle with delight as he teased me until Corrine and Valerie would save me. I could also see how much he loved his family it was very evident and touching. I'm thinking of you all at this sad time and wish I was close enough to give you all a big hug.

“ERIC, oh Eric, where do I start? He was such a good person to be around. When we visited the family in Truro NS in 1980 or so, I was so impressed what a good provider he was. He will hunt, work hard, travel to make sure that his family is cared for. I noticed with pleasure how to him, there was no difference between his family and his in-laws. He always treated them equally! I felt accepted and loved right away. He was very open and that made him very loveable. He was very respectful and considerate of Max. Both could talk for hours. And to top it all, that complicity between him and his dear wife Evelyn was very pleasant to watch. What a couple! No matter whose voice he last heard, we are convinced that the first voice he will soon hear will be Jesus! Yes. 'Let It Come! Let It Come!' Meanwhile we need to 'Keep on Trucking. N'Délé n'est pas loin! Regardless of what the enemy will put in front of us in the near future.

“ Eric was such a big part of my childhood. He would tease me but in the way of a big brother. I adored him. Thank you, Eric, for making me feel special. See you in the Paradise. Janis Wilson Lauzon

“ A smile never to be matched by many. I have only known Eric through our conventions & meetings when we would visit. However that smile always got your attention. He never missed a little trade & touch on the cheeks for the little ones. Eric, enjoy a short little nap. You then hear the call to rise again!
