

Mrs. Evelyn Beatrice Blyth Marvin Tyrrell

May 25, 2013

THE BARONESS HAS LEFT US On May 25, 2013, Lynne died peacefully at St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto after several weeks of illness. Lynne was an amazing woman who lived an incredible life. Born in England in 1920 she lived through the Second World War in London, refusing to go to an air raid shelter, lived for several years in Jamaica and in 1950 moved to Toronto where she spent the rest of her life. A very successful couturier, her BARONESS shop was located on Bloor Street in the 1950's and 1960's, then in Yorkville and finally on Scollard. She was a wonderful designer and in her 90's was still a member of the Toronto Fashion Group. Lynne was predeceased by her husband, her beloved Ronnie, in 2003 and by her children Marvin in 1994 and Harriett in 2008. She is survived by her sister Dena Colin and her brother David Marvin, both of London England; her daughters Geraldine Stringer and Naomi Tyrrell, both of Toronto; she was much loved by her grandchildren Szos St. Germain, Justine Carey, Jason Stringer, Noah Malcolm, Simone Sepic, Nic, Tyler and Taryn Tyrrell; and great-grandchildren Jaime, Steven, Clio, Christopher, Jack, Georgia and Kya. Lynne will be missed. Her vibrant personality, cheerful attitude to life and ability to be the life and soul of the party will not be forgotten. A private funeral will take place this week and a celebration of her life will take place in the next few weeks. Messages of condolence may be left at www.aftercare.org In lieu of flowers, donations are welcomed to Seneca College, Newnham Campus for the Fashion Arts Programme, 1750 Finch Ave. East, Toronto, Ontario M2J

“ *Lynn was a delightful presence at the Central Y for many years. She attributed her enthusiasm for exercise to its value in permitting her to pursue her pleasures in life. Lynn regaled her friends at the Y with stories of her life during WWII and in the world of couture. Her joie de vivre affected everyone who came in contact with her. May her energy continue to inspire us. My sympathies to all her family.
