CELEBRATING THE GREAT LIFE OF AN INCREDIBLE WOMAN

“Splendour in the Grass

What though the radiance

which was once so bright

Be now for ever taken from my sight

Though nothing can bring back the hour

Of splendour in the grass,

of glory in the flower,

We will grieve not, rather find

Strength in what remains behind;

In the primal sympathy

Which having been must ever be

In the soothing thoughts that spring

Out of human suffering;

In the faith that looks through death,

In years that bring the philosophic mind.

William Wordsworth

“ Thank you for your E-mail message concerning the recent repose of your most dear, lovable, exceptional wife Fiona! Alas, attempts to provide words of comfort seem inadequate.

When Thomas More was on trial for his life, he was asked if he realized that the verdict might condemn him to death. He responded that “Death comes to us all, yes, even for kings he comes!” (An obvious aside referring to King Henry VIII!).

While death comes to us all, there arises the question of how we have lived our lives. A Clint Eastwood movie title on three human types gives us the following: The Good, the Bad and the Ugly! Fiona is obviously in the first group!

Here, the present tense is desirable as someone as remarkable as Fiona leaves a sterling record of kindness, generosity, and love. When we die, the body departs but the influence of a good life remains with us. In part this is due to memory but it goes further and deeper than that! Fiona’s legacy of loving kindness provides a kind of healing immortality! She is always with us in more ways than can be numbered!

Fiona lives on in the memories of all who had the pleasure, the honour, the delight of knowing her! She will always be with us, embedded in our hearts, our minds and our memories!

She brought light, joy, exuberance and humour into the world, virtues which the world sorely needs! In this respect, her legacy is good, noble and sound! We remember her with affection! We remember her with thanksgiving! In spirit, she is with us and she will always be with us! Bless her for her many virtues and for the gifts which she has given to us and will continue to give us for many, many years! (This is a reference to a Russian refrain which translates as “GOD GRANT US MANY YEARS”) We shall remember her and we shall rejoice in all that she has given us in the grace and nobility of her friendship, her generosity, her love!

*REST ETERNAL GRANT UNTO HER, O LORD, AND LET LIGHT
PERPETUAL SHINE UPON HER!
MAY SHE REST IN PEACE!*

An amazing woman with an amazing life! She lived every day to the fullest and loved every one of them. She nurtured a great family from two boys to four grandchildren. She travelled the world and made friends everywhere she has been. She was diagnosed with Cancer and given 9 months. She bravely extended that to ten years! Goodness and mercy have been her gifts through life and she accepted death with the same enthusiasm when she was ready!

*Eric and family.
I have not known your family all that long but got to know Fiona on a few occasions. A real lady.
Eric, you were a rock throughout Fiona's journey.
I wish you great comfort in your memories and wish you and your family great peace in Fiona's memory.
