“ Dear Raja and Nayla, Cindy and Arthur and families, our deepest condolences for the loss of your father. He was a fun loving man. Made everyone around him feel at ease with his smile and a good sense of humour.

In the face of adversity, "the glass is always half full" was his attitude... He will be missed.

“ Although there are countless memories spent with our grandfather, there are always those repetitive phrases and actions that remain engraved in our minds to help define him as a person. Seeing our grandfather standing in the doorway with his widespread arms, asking who the hell just entered his house when he knew only too well that it was his four-foot tall granddaughter and her brother, is one of many flashbacks to remember him by. He was a man of intellect, kindness, and self-giving as well as love, morals, and adoration. There wasn't criticism, there was advice and guidance. There wasn't proving one wrong, there was showing what's right. Words can only limit oneself because of its vast range. And I'm sure Dedo would agree with a "You know something, you're right, honest to God" and a complimenting laugh.

*Remain witty at the simple times

*Love,
Alexandra*

“ *His wisdom and un-complicated view of life will stay with me forever. He touched everyone he met, whether for a few minutes, or a few years and made a positive impact on everyone.
Love you forever
Raja.*

“ Sitting with my grandpa listening to his stories about how him and my grandma met as well as listening to his relationship advice; unforgettable moment. Proud grandfather that I idolize just as much as my father. He will never be forgotten.
