“ April 6, 2018 - today is a bittersweet day at CMU College. A class of 13 students is graduating today, filled with hope and excitements as they begin their careers as makeup artists. Geralyn taught these students just a few months ago - in fact they were the last class to have her as their teacher for a full 6 week Film makeup program. All of us at CMU are thinking of Geralyn today, and reflecting on her legacy and how it will live on in the students that she taught here. We prepared a brief video for today's graduation ceremony and wanted to share it with Geralyn's friends and family, so we've uploaded it here.
