“ I was sorry to hear of Murray's passing. My memories go back to when we were growing up. I still tell stories about Murray and his exploits. I think he still owes me a couple of guitar lessons by the way. You'll never be forgotten.

“ Gordie was a character and he never hid who he was to anyone and I respected that about him. I remember the first time I heard Gordie burst out like a trucker looking for his Keys before that I had never seen that side before it was comical he just walked outside the driver's window and he sounded like Donald duck cursing stopped and with a smile on his face said “Hi Ellie” then went on his way cursing about looking for his keys hee hee.

Gordie would feed the pigeons outside Maclures and it was remarkable how they all flow towards when they saw him.

I enjoyed working with Gordie we always had interesting conversations about our lives and growing up. He never judged me when I shared some aspect's about myself and would often say to me “the important thing is that you are in a better place right now”.

Gordie loved talking about his son and would tell stories about him often and his face would light up when he spoke of him. Gordie was so proud of him.

At the end of the day Gordie was a good person and I am happy to have known him.

Rest well Gordie.

Love Eliana Correa (Ellie)

“ There is not much more I can say when it comes to my feelings for Gord. He was always a great and trusting friend. We shared many good times together especially on those occasions when he came for dinner. My wife was taken with his good nature and deep interest in everything. A great, smart and loyal friend....Jerry Creemer

“ Gordo ( his Vancouver alias) was brilliant, eccentric, kind & generous to a fault, frustrating, yet always entertaining. He was a good friend to many in the Wacky World of Taxis & will be remembered fondly by all who knew him. You are missed my Friend, Bill Fee.
