My Dearest Daddy

I am remembering when you would visit me as a little girl you would stretch out your arms to me and throw me up in the air and when i came down you would kiss me and hold me close. I would step on your feet and we would proceed to dance. We would laugh because I was so rambunctious.

I remember you speaking about my brothers Stephen and David. Even though there was distance they were never far from your thoughts. This I know to be true. I sit here knowing that I wont see you in the flesh again hear you call out my name the way you do.

You fought a good fight Daddy you held on as long as you could. We love you more ..

As you walk threw the valley of death ...we take comfort that your mind and soul is at peace now. No more harm can come to you now Daddy. Walk in the light Daddy so I will find you once more.

He is survive by his children Stephen McVeigh(granddaughters Katie, Hannah and Lucy)Donna (grandson Darius)and David Perrotte.
