“ I want to share the memory of the many times when he would show up at HMV and I'd immediately look for Amanda because I knew she'd be staring at me from some corner. He would just stand there and accept our weirdness and to me that's love. My memories of him, although short, are of his love for Amanda and James.

“ I remember when my dad took James and I to Niagara Falls for a weekend getaway, and how much fun we had seeing the sights. Memories like this are what I'll always cherish and remember the most.
