Lots of memories with Irene from Dunbarton, we could be naughty but we had fun. I was reading her post the other day about Moe's 5 years and we messaged. Now her and Moe are together with their wings into the next Realm, Godspeed on your new journey Irene spread your wings and fly xx Marlene

“ Dear family of Irene... I am so saddened to hear of Irene's passing... she always posted wonderfully supportive and inspirational words on my timeline, I will miss her goodness and her light, she lit up my timeline with her love... her heart was gold, filled with all that is wonderful in this world... Losing a loved one so suddenly can make the road to healing more difficult... in the days, weeks and years ahead the healing can be helped along as you share your memories of Irene.... I will keep her goodness with me and try my best to share it with everyone I come across.

I'm so shocked to hear this news. We became Facebook friends less than 2 yrs ago. We would talk late in the evening thru messenger. Always making kind or funny comments on my post, she truly was such a kind hearted person who I enjoyed talking with. We loved to share story about our beloved pets. We always promised that if we visited each others state we would definitely get together. I'll surely see you on the other side. RIP beautiful . 💜💜 Andrea giuffrida Gugliuzza

“ I am profoundly saddened by hearing of Irene's passing. She was a former student, and we connected through Facebook.

*To Irene's family and close friends, cherish the memories of the wonderful times you shared together. Those memories will lift your spirits during these times of grief and sadness. With hugs and tears,
Ursula*

“ Oh, I'm so sorry to hear that Irene passed. I moved away more than 20 years ago and haven't seen Irene since I left but we reconnected on Facebook. She always posted the most inspiring and touching stories - and it always seemed to be at the right time when I needed to read them. A truly sad loss. Prayers to her family.
