

James Gallanders

September 13, 2018

Jim passed away peacefully, as he had wanted, with his three children, Angela, Gillian and James by his side after a prolonged illness. He worked as an electrician in Dundee, Scotland before coming to Canada in 1966 with his wife Anne. After retiring in 2005, he spent 12 years enjoying work at the Roger's Centre. He had fun working the Jays and Argos games as well as a great many wonderful concerts and shows. His family will have a private farewell get together at a later time.

“ Oh dear. I am very saddened to learn of Jim's passing. I worked with Jim at the Rogers Centre and have very fond memories of him. He was always in great spirits and willing to help out however he could. He always had questions for me, keeping me on my toes. To his remaining family and friends, I hope you take comfort in knowing Jim is in a better place, and is no longer suffering. Rest In Peace Jim, until we meet again. Love, Samantha Madeley
