

Jeffrey Christopher Symons

October 22, 2024

Jeffrey Christopher Symons died in hospital on October 22 at the age of 66. Born in Bramalea, he spent most of his life in the Brampton area.

Jeff is survived by his daughter Courtney (Stephen Jardeleza) and son Cameron, as well as his brother Stephen (Lisa), sister Lisa (Larry Riehl), and their families.

He loved the Symons clan dearly. A close second was a barbecued steak and a football game. Any sports game, really. Mere days before his death, he got in his football picks on time — and his Fantasy Football team was the best in the league. He was one of the first computer programmers, and he used his coding skills to develop algorithms for everything from sports betting to generating the Secret Santa Christmas list for his family.

After a long war with Crohn's disease and other health conditions, a brief battle with invasive cancer, and a near-lifetime of chronic pain, Jeff is finally at peace.

We hope that wherever he is now is an eternal August: all fresh peaches, ripe corn, juicy tomatoes, and the date of his beloved Symons Invitational family golf tournament.

Family and friends will gather for an intimate Celebration of Life on November 16 2024 at Pioneer Hall (714516 Middletown Line) in Oxford Centre from 2-4 PM.

In lieu of flowers, please consider donating to Crohn's and Colitis Canada or Bethell House, the hospice he was about to move into for dignified end-of-life care.

“ So sorry to hear of Jeff's passing. I played a lot of baseball with Jeff on the Bramalea Colts. He played shortstop and was a good player and a great guy. RIP Jeff

“ So very sad to hear the news of Jeff's passing. I have fond memories of our working together at NexInnovations for many years. He always put a smile on my face when I heard his "yuk, yuk yuk" laugh as he imitated Moe from the Three Stooges. May his memory be a blessing forever. Karen-Ann Kutner
