“ Yvonne was my Nana and the light of my life in all honesty she was my bestfriend. Yvonne was the loving wife of Norm Sexton of 62years, I can honestly say they where the picture perfect couple for True love. Yvonne catered to him and he catered to her and I remember one Christmas dinner looking at the 2 of them look across the table at each other and you still saw that sparkle in their eyes after so many years and so in love with eachother increadable. Yvonne was also very much loved by her brother Ron and his wife Margie. Yvonne and Norm raised 3 amazing daughters Sue (Pat), Lyn(Greg) and Kathy(Chris) They did an amazing job my mother and aunts are increadable people just like their mother. Yvonne was also Nana of 3 girls Jaclyn(Jodie), Shannon and Andrea and wow what a Nana she should have wrote a book on how to be the perfect Nana. I (Jaclyn) lived with Nana and Grandpa for 7 years they jumped right back into child raising and didn't even give it a second thought. Nana was hands down the best cuddler, tucker iner, and playmate, Over the years I bacame exreamly attached to Nana and I still was at 30. Nana was also loving mother to Vinny (her dog) Vinny loved his momma more than anything in the world. She became Great-Nana in 2008 to Austin Lavigne he adored his Nan just like his momma did . I guess there was just something about her that everyone loved. She was adored by coworkers, neighbours and friends as well. A peice of me died when I lost my Nana she was my real life hero and my bestfriend. Nana had a way of making everything ok just a phone call is all it would take the sound of her voice would make it all better. I miss everything about her, her smell her touch her voice but most of all the way she love us. Heaven gained a hero but we lost ours. I love you Nana so much, To the moon and back your my favourit girl. I am missing you like crazy but thankful we all have the best angle in the sky looking over us
