

John Alexander Clark

September 22, 2020

John Alexander Clark, 60

Radiologist, husband, father, outdoorsman, handyman, oenophile

Born in Montreal to David Blackwood Clark & Barbara Jean Clark (ne Griffith).

Died of brain cancer in Toronto on September 22, 2020.

In addition to being extraordinarily intelligent and accomplished, John was an uncommonly kind and compassionate person. John commenced his education at McGill, where he earned a Bachelor of Science with a Major in Physics and a Minor in Computer Science, and later attained a Master's in Medical Physics. He pursued a medical degree at McGill, following in the footsteps of his grandfather, Dr. Harold Griffith, who is widely considered a pioneer in the field of Anesthesia. John completed his medical degree at the University of Toronto and pursued a residency in Radiology.

In 1978 he met his wife Marsha, who lived across the hall from his high school girlfriend in the dorm at McGill. Although complete opposites, over time they found they complimented each other perfectly and married in 1986. Their children Oliver and Rachel were born in 1994 and 1996. An affectionate and engaged father, John was unconditionally supportive of his children. He cherished family dinners and was always eager to help with anything from 5th grade math homework to moving into a first apartment after graduating from University.

John was also an integral part of his Radiology partnership at Ellesmere X-Ray. He used his computer science skills creating numerous programs to improve efficiency and ensure quality control. John believed healthcare delivered in a community setting should be every bit as good as that of Toronto's finest research hospitals. He spent his last 18 years with his Radiologist partners at Ellesmere X-Ray serving three hospitals and several clinics in Scarborough, and more recently, Huntsville and Bracebridge Hospitals. Prior to his sudden retirement, John was the acting Chief of Radiology and Medical Imaging at Scarborough Health Network.

John loved the outdoors and any vacation, with Marsha or the entire family, would always include some combination of hiking, biking, canoeing, and/or skiing. He used his handyman skills, learned from his father during summers at Lac Des Iles, to repair, rewire, or rebuild whatever was needed, whether it was at home or at the cottage. As an avid outdoorsman, John organized annual canoe trips with family and friends, favoring the fall. Canoe tripping with him was a pleasure - he planned out the route, gear & menu in detail. Dinner always seemed to include a pre-dinner drink that required an unanticipated step, such as attaching a rope to a tiny can of ginger ale and throwing it to the bottom of the lake to cool. Even portaging canoe trips with minimal gear included at least one bottle of red wine, steak the first night, and dessert every night.

An active interest in wine led to "gourmet club" partnered with two foodie friends. For over 15 years, John and his buddies came together periodically to prepare elaborate, multi-course meals served to a trio of appreciative wives, each course paired with a different, thoughtfully chosen wine.

John was an avid skier. He first started out with skiing on weekends in the Laurentians as a teenager and his interest grew into multi-annual trips with family and his favorite skiing friends. He was due to leave for this year's first ski trip in January 2020 when his sudden difficulty with speaking led to the diagnosis of brain cancer. With sadness and shock, he retired immediately. Subsequent loss of speech and cognitive skills caused considerable frustration, but he handled it with courage, fortitude, and acceptance. Not to say he was a typical patient – he self-adjusted his medication and reviewed his MRI images with intent and interest until the end.

He is survived by his wife Marsha Jane Copp, adult children Oliver Copp Clark and Rachel Copp Clark, mother Barbara Jean Clark (ne Griffith), brother James Randall Clark and Jim's partner Diane Bowman. He also leaves his beloved aunt, cousins and cousins by marriage in Canada, the US, England and Hong Kong.

“ *Dr.Clark was an amazing member of our work family at Birchmount (Grace hospital) for 18 years. First words that come to mind on seeing him was debonair , royalty, dashing. His beautiful blue eyes so kind, always smiling. His laughter , and how he would put his head back and laugh. Many memories of his which brings us joy will always be cherished in our hearts.He was so caring, always approachable and kind hearted.
And his sense of humor made our depressing day go by fast.*

*Its a big loss for all of us. Our prayers are with his family.
Rest in peace dear Dr.Clark. We love you and will always cherish our time spent with you.*

“ Dear Marsha, Oliver and Rachel,
We are deeply saddened to hear the news of John's passing. We all have fond memories of conversations with John when he would bring Oliver for piano lessons. I am very glad to know that Oliver's artistry at the keys was of comfort at a most difficult time.

“ The only thing worse than the sorrow I have over losing one of my best friends John is the grief that I have felt watching my best friend Marsha dealing bravely with his slow demise over the last year. For I too have known both of you since 1978. John, my skiing and scotch-drinking buddy, I will always miss you. Marsha, my old roommate and confidante, I will always be there for you.

“ My condolences to the family. I first met John at the Wellesley when I joined the interventional team as a nurse. I didn't realize I would be joining a close knit family. We started an annual cookie exchange and one of the highlights was when John participated and brought his amazing butter tarts. He was a an excellent radiologist and a great baker, just to mention a couple of his talents. He was a wonderful human being who left us way too soon.

“ John was a resident with me at U of T and then was a fellow radiologist at Sunnybrook. What a loss when he left Sunnybrook. Now to lose him completely is a tragedy. Amazing radiologist. Even better person. So sad. You will be missed. My heart goes out to his family.

“ I send you all my heartfelt condolences at John’s passing. Years ago at the lake, in our early teens, John and I tended to hang out together, riding the green wooden boat all over, exploring, shooting fire crackers, playing board games and having water fights with Jim and Don, who were both doing the same as John and I were, but usually somewhere else on the lake. From what I’ve heard over the years, he lived quite a learned and full life - something to be very proud of, however short it was, but one might say “his work was done”, like all of us will one day. He’s now in good company with Dave and the Grandparents now. My regret now is we didn’t re-connect earlier.

“ Hockey Night in Montréal – my most cherished Habs games were those with John at the (old) Forum the winter of 1987–88. John had figured out the best route for standing-room-only tickets just behind the first section of seats, putting us almost at ice level. One of us had to guard our spot when the other was off to buy a couple of beers or for a visit to see a man about a horse... John organised tickets for use to attend at least one Leafs game in recent years, but the atmosphere was not the same as those heady days at the old Forum. You couldn't ask for a better brother-in-law. I miss him already. Rest in peace in hockey heaven John. Gordon
