Psalm 23:

The Lord is my shepherd. I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures. He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death. I will fear no evil, for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies, thou anointest my head with oil my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life and will dwell in the House of the Lord Forever.

“ My mom said how she would excite my son taking him for walks when he was a child. She would say in the fall, "today it's windy out baby, you know we might see Winnie the Poo on our walk." My son loved Winnie the Poo and mom knew this would make so happy. I love you, mom. Your ways to inspire and bring smiles to many.

Today, it weighs heavy in my heart to finally put closure on dad leaving Lucas and I - to be with you, mom. I will start making his memorial service arrangements in June and bring his remains to be laid next to you at Wasauksing Cemetary, Losing you was devastating and losing dad was so much worse than I ever imagined, the two most important people in my life who loved me no mater what are gone. I love you mom. I know dad is very happy to be with you again. As dad said so many times to me, "I miss your ma. I ask her why did she leave me when I am by myself." Until we are together again, you are my parents and you are always in my heart forever.
