“ Anne lived her life fully and connected to people. Her relationships were the most important to her particularly those with her children and grandchildren. I met her years ago at the One of a Kind Show where she was in the company of one of my clients. She had extended herself to this woman over and above her role as a nurse. I was impressed, as this woman was "difficult" and Anne saw beyond her challenges to the lonely woman beneath. I am going to miss her and I am glad I knew her. My condolences go to her family, her greatest passion. Love Susan

“ I love that Anne joined our family celebrations in the past few years. She always came armed with multiple tins of her fabulous baking, including one filled with her special 'Crack' just for me – along with a warning to hide it away before the others could see it.

She was such a warm and caring person, so proud of her family. I will miss her lovely smile and her bounce whenever she came into our house. I just recall that she had such a nice energy about her. You just knew she was kind. XO Diane
