“ Kathy and I worked at the same office together during the 2002-2004 time frame. Since we both worked an overnight shift, I would often drive her home and we occasionally went out for breakfast together. We become quite friendly. I really enjoyed her company, as she was incredibly warm, bright, and had a terrific sense of humour. She really brought a wonderful energy and sense of fun to our overnight shift. When I left the the job to attend school in another city, I recall that she was so encouraging about it. In addition to best wishes, she gave me a card and small gift. We casually kept in touch by phone for two or three years after but, regrettably, lost touch. In fact, I only learned of her passing, purely by chance, when I looked her up to see if she might be on Linked In. My condolences to the family. I recall how fondly she spoke of her nieces and nephews. Rest in peach Kathy. You will not be forgotten. I have not forgotten you. Best regards, Rosemary

“ Christine and family , I'm so sorry and sad to hear of Kathy's passing. I Have many great memories of her and your family. especially the trip her and I took to New York city in her little fire fly ( If my memory serves me corretly) and the time she took us to the all nighter at the drive inn. She loved music and movies and I would play against her sometimes in music and movie trivia and I LOST every time.. Heaven gained a another beautiful angel, god bless you and your family.

Jacqueline. ( jackie, jackson as your dad would say)

“ Kathy followed me on facebook for one year. She cracked me up with each post. Always a positive spirit. I was battling with my own illness, so she was good for me and I hope I was good for her during our texting back and forth.

Well the day arrived when I decided to finally meet Ms. Kathy. I went to the hospital, peeped into her room and saw this woman with amazing smile that could light the room.

We talked, and laughed, and she talked and talked and talked...lol.

All of a sudden she pulled her top up and exposed her breasts to show me the one that was larger than the other. She said, "Go ahead and touch it". Remember folks, this is our first meeting of each other. I touched it and yes it felt hard as a rock. She said, "This is my weapon if anyone dare to mess with me".....lol.

Just one year of knowing this sweet, courageous, strong, giving, caring, loving and a heart larger than life itself, she sure has left a mark in my heart that I will always remember her by.

Will miss your jokes and stories Kathy. Rest up, dear one, rest.

Love,
June-Marie Vieau
