

Ms. Lois Frances Halsey

November 2, 2014

Passed away in her 88th year after a courageous battle with cancer. Lois, fondly known as Dammy by her grandchildren, led a generous and challenging life. She excelled at everything she tried including classical ballet, jazz and international ballroom, running a couturier, practising real estate, property management and bookkeeping. Then, when others were retiring and taking life easy, Lois retired and bought a house where she could use her decorating skills as well as her determination. She learned how to tile, build a deck and produce gardens that garnered her a local award for excellence. Lois loved the arts. She regularly attended the opera as well as smaller theatrical and dance productions in and around Toronto. Her ease on the dance floor made her a sought after dance partner. She enjoyed many events and met some wonderful friends through her involvement with the social networking organization Pot Pourri. Until a few years ago, Lois still met with her high school girlfriends once a year for a fun evening of reminiscing. Lois wasn't only generous with her friends and family, she supported so many charities that she kept the mailman busy. She will be deeply missed and remembered lovingly by her daughter Lesley and by her grandchildren Christina, Thomas, and Alexandra along with their families and by all who knew and loved her. Many thanks and kind words to the doctors and staff at Sunnybrook, to the incredible palliative team at the Temmy Latner Centre for Palliative Care, and to those involved through the CCAC. In lieu of flowers donations to either the Temmy Latner Centre (www.tlcp.org) or to a charity of your choice will be greatly appreciated.

“ Her kindness to me when I was seriously ill will never be forgotten. She has been a treasured friend for over 25 years, and we enjoyed many happy times with the Pot Pourri Group. She helped me celebrate many birthdays. I will be thinking of her each time I wash my hair and use the tubes of Loreal Conditioner she saved for me! She will be greatly missed!
