“ Sorry to hear of Barry's death and my sympathies to your family and friends. I met Barry as a young Ryerson student, and had the pleasure of working for him part time as a Registry Office "condo hunter", leafing through registry books, seeking newly registered condo corporations to build a database that would later support his projections about the burgeoning Toronto condo craze. This work gave me an appreciation for creating evidence-based solutions that would support my long career in real estate development.

He will be missed.
