“ To my friend you will be missed I wanted to tell you how much of a great friend you have been to me. With deep sadness I never got the chance to share this with you last Friday as planned. Life takes us through many journeys, some good some not so good, but because of you my life has forever been changed, I thank you for your humour wisdom and knowledge that you have shared with me each and every day. The memories and experiences that we have had together, well they will always be apart of me. From the time we started out watching x files enjoying chicken and learning how to get on the internet from the waitress at red lobster and all nighters rendering 3d objects to our movie nights and sitting at mr Greek for hours on end.

I can't think of a better way to have spent my time. I have learned from you you if you have a passion in life as you did for computers technology and photography learn it well and you will be rewarded. You have always had the time to share your creativeness and experiences and we are the ones that have been rewarded for knowing you.

Richard and I have fallen in love with your works of art no matter how abstract some of them were, and many of us know some of the pieces were as orrailian as they get but we loved seeing each and every one of your creations. No matter after each master piece was completed if it was something we fell in love with or had a different view of it was the thrill of seeing and hearing the story of each piece. I can't thank you enough for some of the most wonderful years of my life.

Orrail, Because of you and your friendship you have given me the gift of another great friend Richard. Our friendship will always be a big part of my life, I will always look to richard for strength wisdom advice and probably even a laugh or two when needed but most of all when ever I have been down or hurt or disappointed you my friend richard have always been there for me, and you have been able to help me get through the worst and I can always count on you to bring a smile to my face a chuckle or a laugh. Thank you orrail for the gift of friendship, you will always be missed, always thought of, and always in all of our hearts.
