“ On September 22, 2017 I had this poem and following picture of you printed in the Kitchener/Waterloo Record. You made me promise I would do that on the anniversary of your passing. I couldn't put it in the Cambridge Times because they didn't have a paper out on that day, I told as many people as I could, so hopefully those who loved you were able to get a copy. I also used the picture that you told me to! :)

The poem is very simple, yet was the most difficult thing I have ever written in my life mom. It took me a year to write! After writing the first 2 lines, I couldn't stop crying and every time I tried to write more, I would break down and have to stop.

I survived Thanksgiving without you....barely. Like you, I'm a solitary creature so being alone isn't so bad.

My life this past year has been terrible, with very few bright spots mom...but you know this because you've been watching. Like you, I am having a very difficult life.

The list of things you gave me to do has been challenging mom, but I have been able to connect with some of the people you wanted me to and just like you said, it'll all be for the best.

*I miss you mom.
Cheryl.*

*Patricia Susan Aldham
March 17, 1944 - Septemeber 22 2016.*

*A year ago on this day,
God took my mom away.*

*'Write me poem,' she said,
'And keep your nails painted red'.*

*'Remember me when the lilacs bloom,
And don't let sadness take up so much room.'
'I'll give you a list of things you must do,
so you'll know that I live on inside you.'
'Promise me you'll laugh, have fun, don't hold on to pain seek happiness and know that my love will remain.'*

*There's a hole in my heart where her warmth used to be,
but I know she's at peace and that God set her free.*

*I miss you mom.
Love, your daughter Cheryl Aldham.*

“ This friday, March 17th is your birthday mom. I'm taking the day off of work and will celebrate your special day in the Irish way like you told me to do! I'll try my best not to cry, and to have fun for you. I know you'll be watching.

Love you and miss you so much mom.

“ How am I going to get through the holiday season without you mom?

“ I miss you mom....

*Your smile your laugh and your warm embrace
Your twinkling blue eyes and beautiful face*

*I'm trying to be strong and not fall apart
But you left a void, a giant hole in my heart*

*'Find joy and always have fun' you told me near the end
And I'm so proud that you became my best friend*

*So I'll try to be strong like you wanted me to be
I don't want you to see the tears that cripple me*

*I promise to stumble through life looking for joy and love
Knowing that your smiling and watching from above*

“ *Pat was one of a kind. Pat lived life her way !
Pat loved your family and loved your dog's with all her heart . Pat was a great knitter and awesome at sewing. I can look at my window seat at the shop and think of Pat . Pat made me laugh with her crazy stories about the chipmunks eating her GARDEN!!! I will remember Pat and her blue streak in her hair that she loved ,even when Darrell called her smuf. I will miss Pat but she is watching down on us from heaven where I am sure she is playing with her dogs*♥♥♥♥

“ Miss me...but let me go

When I come to the end of the road, and the sun has set for me

I want no rights in a gloomed filled room, why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little - but not too long, and with your head bowed low Remember the love we once shared, miss me but let me go.

*For this is a journey that we all must take, and each must go alone
It's all part of the Masters plan, a step on the road to home.*

*When you are lonely and sick at heart, go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds, miss me but let me go.*
