“ Even though "Pat" is what she liked to be called, she will always be Cousin "Isabel" to me, the cousin who became Andy's mom and a caring nurse, such as the day she delivered a baby in the parking lot of Toronto General Hospital because the baby decided to arrive too soon. I also remember the great love and companionship Isabel shared with her brother, Bill, an OPP officer who loved to play the bagpipes. I know Isabel and Bill are together again, swapping stories and renewing memories of their times together.

All my love,
