“ Walking into the Haven (a club for older men in Toronto), it came as a big shock to see Paul's picture on the bulletin board. I knew instantly that could mean only one thing. It turned out he had passed away the previous month. Everybody knew that he suffered many medical issues, but being a tough, resilient guy, we expected him to live with them for a long time yet. In fact, Paul told me a number of times that he wouldn't mind living to age 90 - but no longer! Sadly, it wasn't meant to be. Paul cashed in his chips on August 9th, 2017 at the age of 79.

We're going to miss you, Lefty ( Being on the right politically, I jokingly called him that because of his opposing, ultra-liberal beliefs). Rest in Peace, my friend, you are irreplaceable!
