“ I really don't know where to start, you and nana took me in and showed me what a home is supposed to look like. You guys helped me become the daughter, granddaughter, girlfriend, sister and the mother I am today. I will always be grateful for that. You always taught me to make sure I make myself happy before pleasing anyone else. You always let me cry on your shoulder when I couldn't get through the things in my past or even when I was just having a bad day. My favourite memory of you that I will never forget is how many things you taught me, whether it was a simple word I didn't know or just helping me with my school work. You made me a much smarter woman than I ever could have been without you in my life. I wish we didn't have to say good bye and it pains me so much to think I will never hear your deep chuckle or your stern voice again, I will never forget you and I will never let Micheal forget you either. We love you more than you could ever know. Rest In Paradise Rick❤️
