“ We went to lots of red sox games in the city and took lots of day trips to Buffalo for shopping, meals & of course football games. He always made the best of life. The Raiders fan vs the Patriots fan. Visits to his home from a nurse and was never bothered by the treatment. He loved the Cheesecake Factory and huge barrels (yes barrels) of cheesy poofs from Walmart along with Hawaiian punch, count chocula & capri sun pouches. A true friend and generous man, I'm so thankful he met Sam and loved her infinitely. He was just too good. I believe he knows and will be a guardian angel for always.

“ This is a very late reply, so I hope Sam & everyone remembers how positive and gappy go lucky he was. We shared a live of the Sox and went to a couple games in Toronto. We also made trips to Buffalo to shop and eat Cheesecake at the Factory. He was such a dear friend, which is impossible with a Raiders vs Patriots debate, yet we still always had advice and a true love of sports. He was the kindest soul, a rare kind of person who would go to any lengths even during the most difficult of times. The smile, the generosity, kindness to his nurse at home and always a brave face. He was brave and we should learn from him, how he took it in stride. Sam, no words express the sorrow but he loved you so much. As much as a person could. I wish you all so much love & light...he'd say it now to everyone. Keep living as life is unfairly short for the best of us.
Sincere love, N

“ Rob was an amazing friend and brother through our High school and football days.

Whether it was on the football field or just hanging out at school... Rob had a genuine heart that many respected.

Your friendship will always be remembered. Rest in peace my friend.

“ I just learned of Robert's passing. I was a childhood friend of Robert's many years ago around the years of 1988-1990 but had lost touch many years ago. We both attended the same primary school at the time and he lived nearby. I can remember always hanging around, going to Winnipeg a jets games, playing street hockey in from of his place, and getting together to watch WWF events. Really sad that we lost touch. I offer my condolences to the family of one of my cherished childhood friends.

“ I met Rob when he was working in Burlington, had the pleasure of going to a Bills game with him, watching UFC with him on multiple occassions and enjoying in daily conversations with him on many topics. Rob was a great person. Even though him and I lost touch when I moved, I am proud to be able to say that Rob was a friend. He was taken too soon, and will be greatly missed. --- Darryl

“ Mr. Kala Per as I called him is an amazing guy. I remember my 1st ever trip to Las Vegas with him. It was an interesting experience for me to have Rob show me around. We had an amazing 4 days and 3 nights. Rob showed me a bit of the strip when he wasn't playing fantasy games. I will miss him dearly.
