

Robert (Bob) Widdicombe

December 7, 2024

It is with sadness that we announce the passing of Robert (Bob) Widdicombe.

He was born in Regina, Saskatchewan, on July 10th, 1930. He was raised in St. Catharines, Ontario, and studied Economics at the University of Toronto, graduating in 1954. On Saturday, December 7th, 2024, he passed away peacefully, with Christian at his side, at St. Michael's Hospital in downtown Toronto, at the age of 94.

He was predeceased by his parents: Roland and Margaret Widdicombe, his wife: Maralyn Widdicombe (nee Woodley), son: Peter Widdicombe, and sister: Jean Brammell.

Leaving to mourn, Partner: Christian Marjollet, daughter: Ann (Ian) McLeod, Nova Scotia, son: Eric Widdicombe, Montreal. Grandchildren: Sarah McLeod, Adam McLeod, and Noah Widdicombe.

His wish was to be cremated and no service will be held. There will be a tribute to his life at a later date.

Heartfelt thanks to the staff at St. Michael's Palliative Care Unit, especially Brigitte, Michael, Christina and Shawak.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation in his honour to the Alzheimer Society of Toronto, or the Toronto Humane Society as he was a lifelong animal lover.

He will be sadly missed.

“ My deepest sympathies on Bob's passing. Both of my parents Dagmar and Gerry, shared wonderful memories with Bob over the years and I was fortunate to participate in many a lunch with Bob in attendance while my father was at Wellesley Centre. Bob always had a smiling attitude and a pleasure to be with. Sincerely Andrew Staf.
