“ Roger worked with my husband, Robin Schiele at Canadian Business Magazine when it was owned by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. He and Robin were good friends and I know Robin will be distressed when I give him this sad news. Roger had a lively sense of humour, he was a good husband and step dad to his children and grandchildren. Roger was born in England, and had been a foundling babe. He was adopted by a head-mistress of a school. Roger longed to find his birth father. He was a good person, someone who never had anything negative to say. He also loved dogs. I am so sorry that he has gone. We loved you Roger.
