“ I was so sad to recently learn of Shelagh's passing and extend my deepest sympathies to you Meredyth, Allyson and Mandy.

I knew Shelagh from the early '60's when we were neighbors and you were all young children,. We shared many, many cups of coffee together, we played bridge together; and together we kept the little neighborhood library in operation with our borrowing. Later we both went to work at York University. Shelagh and I were in the library there together and a group of us shared friendship for long after Shelagh moved onward and upward. In more recent years ties became less frequent but we were always happy to hear of wedding trips and grandchildren.

I have many happy memories of Shelagh and her unique personality. I am so glad I knew her.

“ I was a colleague of Shelagh's at York in the Government Documents Library. I was deeply saddened to hear of her passing. Although we had lost contact over the years, I will always remember Shelagh with fondness for her quick mind, wonderful sense of humour and her humanity.

My deepest condolences to her three daughters and her whole family. She will be fondly remembered by many.

Allyson, Meredyth and Amanda.

I've just learned of Shelagh's passing and extend my deepest sympathy to you.

Shelagh and I were colleagues at York University since 1974, when we both started to work at York. As often happens with colleagues a friendship developed and it continued after retirement. Unfortunately as time passed we lost touch the last few years.

Your mother was a singular human being, one of a kind. Her 'quirky' sense of humour, her loyalty and most of all her quick mind. I feel fortunate to have known her.
