“ Uncle Willie was unique. He even had his own language. One of the sayings he frequently used was "it's all about the crevices". To this day, I am not sure what that means. I also remember Uncle Willie's appreciation for the time and effort Aunt Angie and I put in making one of his favorite dishes, souse or pigs feet. We were so eager to please Uncle Willie that we bought 5 feet and use the recipe that his mother nanny gave for 15 to 20 feet. I'll never forget Uncle Willie's choking expression as we put in enough horseradish, Hot Chili Peppers, vinegar for a recipe of 20 feet without adjusting it for the 5 feet we cooked. We all had a good laugh at that. I also remember the time I was driving Uncle Willie's car into the underground parking and the garage door suddenly fell on the windshield and cracked it. And Angie and I were stunned. It took a long time to get over being apprehensive after that incident. But it was Uncle Willie's response that depicts the man he was, he was cool about it make sure we were not hurt. I look forward to seeing Uncle Willie Resurrected to Paradise Earth and seeing him there finally asking him, what does all about the crevices mean. Sleep sound Uncle Willie until you are awakened. “ To my Wonderful Willy, the Love of my Life.

Your quite strength, kind heart & Love made my life the Best!!

We laughed a lot together, especially each morning while having our coffee.

Your Personality & Great Smile lit up a room when you entered & people loved having You around.

Like your favorite song said
"You Did it Your Way".

R.I.P. my Love. I miss You.
Love Always
Your Loving Wife, Angela (Angie)

“ Our dear brother-in-law Willy will be sadly missed, especially for all the joy and laughter he brought to all those privileged to know him. He was truly a unique character who managed to find joy in everyday living. His infectious smile and robust laugh will remain in our memory.
Rest in peace Willy after a life well lived.
